Trapped Novato Fishermen Describe Ordeal In Sierra

NORMAN M. SCOTT
Tells of ordeal

ROBERT PORTEOUS

One Hikes 18 Miles To Find Help

By THERON A. NEWELL

An ordeal of going four nights and three days without food in the bitter cold of a Sierra snowstorm was related late yesterday in Novato by two fishermen.

The climax came when Norman (Mike) Scott, 21, of Santa Rosa, hiked 18 miles during the night through deep snow to find a forest ranger's station and send help back to his sick companion, Robert Porteous, 20, of 2206 Oak Knoll Road, Novato.

The two young men were returned from Placer County to Novato yesterday by a friend, Donald Donzel of Belvedere, after they had been treated at Auburn Hospital. Scott stopped by the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Scott of 728 Bradley Avenue, Novato, where he was reunited with his wife, Janet, who had stayed in Santa Rosa during the search.

Porteous, a College of Marin student, was returned to his home.

Both had tried fruitlessly during the four days to signal passing planes to attract help.

They spent one night spent one night in a small tool shed of the forest service. It was so cold they beat each other on the back, massaged each other, and jumped up and down to stimulate circulation, fearful of freezing to death.

Apparently their only injuries were blisters on Scott's feet from walking through the snow in wading boots, and a frostbite on Porteous's feet.

The pair, fishing buddies since their childhood in Novato, left last Friday afternoon for Iowa Hill in Placer County to go to a "super duper" fishing spot which Chris Thompson of Santa Rosa had described to them. At 11 p.m. that day they found the locale with the help of another fisherman's map. They slept in the pickup truck that night.

On Saturday morning, they packed into the spot on the North Fork of the American River.

"The fishing was lousy," Porteous said. Neither caught any fish.

They camped on the river that night, fished Sunday morning, then started back to their pickup truck. A snowstorm struck.

It took them six hours to reach the truck. They found it stuck in the snow, immovable.

It was then they ate their last food: a piece of chicken, some potato salad, and a can of sardines.

They ran the car heater all night for warmth and to dry their clothes. Then the truck ran out of gas.

Monday morning a plane flew close overhead. They lit a highway flare. The plane came toward them, but kept going, the reported. They learned later it was a plane searching for a downed Air National Guard plane with two Stockton men on board.

Monday afternoon, they started to walk to the little town of Westville. It took them six hours to get through the snow to the road. They walked down the road for two hours but there were "so many roads and no signs" that they realized that they could not find the town.

"Rather than being caught without any shelter, we decided

Red Chinese Are Hinted As Nuclear Thieves

LONDON (UPI) — The Chinese Communists stole vital nuclear secrets from the unsuspecting Russians which may play an important part in Pekin's avowed determination to produce its own atom bombs, authoritative communists sources said today.

The sources hinted that China, by prying out important Soviet information, may have the scientific and technical know-how to manufacture a nuclear bomb but apparently is handicapped by industrial backwardness.

(Chinese Foreign Minister Marshal Chen Yi, in an interview published today in the Mainichi newspaper in Tokyo, was quoted as saying: "It is not difficult for us to possess nuclear weapons, and we will equip ourselves with such weapons in order to protect our state and our interests."

(Chen said China "demands a total ban on nuclear weapons but some major powers are threatening us . . . " He did not elaborate in the interview granted yesterday to Hiroshi Hashimoto, director of the news division of the Tokyo broadcasting co. in Peking and printed in part by Mainichi.)

Rusk Is Flying To NATO Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew today to Europe for a series of military and political fence-mending talks with NATO allies.

The first stop on his tour is Brussels for a two-day informal conference with Belgian government officials.

On Sunday, Rusk plans to go to the Hague for a three-day spring session of the NATO ministerial council, opening Tuesday.

Parent-Teacher Unit Backing Aid Request

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The California Congress of Parents and Teachers has voted to "actively support" an initiative by the California Teachers Assn. to put a 200 million dollars state school aid request on the November ballot. (See also, page 11.)

The action came last night at a state convention attended by 5,000 delegates.

Private, 24, Dies After One-Mile Run

FORT ORD (UPI) — Pvt. Richard M. Anderson, 24, Sunnyvale, collapsed and died yesterday near the end of a one mile physical fitness run at this Monterey peninsula army post.

Medical officers said the trainee apparently suffered a heart attack. An autopsy was scheduled.

Anderson was a member of Company D, 2nd Battalion, 1st Brigade and was in the seventh week of basic training.

He collapsed during the second round of physical fitness tests administered in the training cycle. He had taken the first tests at the outset of his training wihout difficuly, an army spokesman said.

Anderson was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace A. Anderson, Sunnyvale.

Caracas Terror Bandits Strike

CARACAS (UPI) — Four heavily armed terrorists, including a woman, raided the National Identification Bureau of the Interior (police) Ministry today and shot its chief agent to death.

The victim, Carlos Jose Pinacci, was a nephew of Miranda State Gov. Ildegar Perez Segnini. He was shot to death by the bandits in the office library where they ransacked files for passports, identity papers, official seals and documents.

After robbing the files, the bandits shot Pinacci in the side and left him on the floor. He died before he could be taken to a hospital.

Wolfe Grade Extension To Hurt School

Would Wipe Out Proposed Addition Of Six Classrooms

A planned four-lane extension of Wolfe Grade would wipe out the proposed six-room addition to the Wolfe Grade School, it was learned today.

Officials in the Marin County Department of Public Works say there is no other place to put the extension, which will tie in to the Bon Air Bridge and be a main traffic route from San Rafael to the Larkspur-Corte Madera area.

ONLY LOCATION

Kentfield School District officials counter that the needed classroom addition cannot feasibly be built in any other location.

County Supervisor William D. Fusselman has been aware of the county's intent to extend Wolfe Grade, according to Supt. Howard C. Harmon of the Kentfield School District.

The specific plan for a four-lane, instead of a two-lane road will be presented to the school district board at its meeting at 7:45 p.m. Monday in the Wolfe Grade School library.

TIGHT SQUEEZE

The addition to the school, according to county Public Works Department officials, happens to coincide with where the road has to go. They point out that it is a tight squeeze between the property of Marin Catholic High School, which will benefit from access being opened up to the rear of its property, and the Wolfe Grade School.

Harmon said the proposed roadway will come within 30 feet of existing buildings and wipe out a corner of the school's playground — which also serves as a Little League ballpark—and half the site for the classroom addition.

"The building would be a jumbled jerry-built structure if we had to build it anywhere else on the property. That site is the only logical place to put it," Harmon said.

"We were really expecting it to be a 60-foot road, but it turns out to be 80 feet. It seems, by visual inspection, that the road could be realigned differently," he said.

Harmon added, "It is a question of how close it squeezes up against our school or Marin Catholic High School."

Bridge Commute Books Extended

Director of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District today voted to extend the time limit on bridge commute books from 70 days to 80 days, putting the terminal date on the 20th rather than the 10th of the month.

Reason is to avoid first of month jam-up as commuters buy new books. The books will still cost the same and still carry 50 tickets.

Tam Valley Vows Fight Against Annex Plans

Residents Facing 3 'Tigers'

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Tamalpais Valley residents faced three "tigers" last night—annexation, taxation and evacuation—and decided to fight them all. Action came at a meeting of the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club attended by about 50 persons.

Incorporation was suggested as one means to fight the proposed 255-acre annexation by the City of Mill Valley which will include Tamalpais Valley's Shoreline Highway businesses including the Shoreline Shopping Complex.

COMMITTEE NAMED

A committe was appointed to look into merits and demerits of annexation and persons present were urged to protest annexation by writing letters, getting neighbors to write letters, telephoning and to attend a meeting at 8:30 a.m. next Thursday of the local agency formation commission in the county civic center. The commission will consider Mill Valley's request at that time.

"We would like your signatures on a petition against annexation," said Morris Batz to the crowd after he declared annexation will add about three cents to the Tamalpais Fire District tax rate.

Blatz said Mill Valley is bypassing the residential areas and reaching out a sharp finger "to pluck this plum."

OWN PETITION

"Bring it out!" shouted a man.

Batz, who spoke for the Tamalpais Fire Protection District of which he is a commissioner, said people in business are circulating their own petition and that both the Tamalpais and Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Protection distrcts will meet with county counsel to see what they can do to protest annexation.

The club also agreed to protest the county assessor's reappraisals, which club president Daniel Mulcahey said had increased property appraisals by 20 to 70 per cent in the valley.

The club also agreed it would not move from its clubhouse, in the way of the Coyote Creek Flood project, until it gets a good price for it.

Batz said the Shoreline business district provides a large part of the tax rate to maintain in fire district. This is why the Mill Valley annexation would add three cents to the tax rate, he said.

Mill Valley "cannot provide adequate police, fire or sewer protection," Batz claimed. He said it takes a great deal more time for the Mill Valley Fire Department to get to Shoreline Highway than it does for the Tamalpais firemen.

The Mill Valley fire chief has

FBI Is Probing Loaded Revolver Found In Plane Crash Wreckage

BULLETIN

NEW YORK (UPI)—The National Broadcasting Co. today quoted "reliable sources" in Washington that the pilot of a Pacific Airlines plane that crashed yesterday in California had been shot.

A radio report from Nancy Dickerson, NBC correspondent in Washington, said a tape recording found in the plane quoted the pilot as crying: "My God, I've been shot. I've been shot."

DANVILLE (UPI)—FBI agents sought today to determine the significance—if any—of a loaded revolver found in the wreckage of an airliner that crashed yesterday, killing 44.

The Smith Wesson .357-magnum revolver was sent to the FBI laboratory in Washington for analysis. FBI agents pointed out it is illegal for anyone except law enforcement officers to carry guns on commercial flights.

At first it was believed the weapon belonged to San Francisco Police Inspector George Lacau, a passenger on the Pacific Air Lines F-27 turboprop airliner. But his superior said Lacau's service revolver was at home and it was "extremely unlikely" that he would have a gun like the one found.

A 12-man Civil Aeronautics Board team flew out from Washington late yesterday to investigate the crash.

It was the second air tragedy in slightly more than two months involving flights popular with Northern Californians who seek a night of relaxation and gaming in Nevada's gambling casinos.

Eighty-five persons were killed March 1 when a Paradise Airlines constellation crashed into a Nevada mountain near Lake Tahoe on a flight from Northern California.

Yesterday's ill-fated F-27 was en route from Reno to San Francisco after a stop at Stockton when it crashed and exploded about 30 miles short of its destination at 6:50 a.m.

Of primary interest to investigators was the revolver found among the torn fragments of the plane.

The possibility could not be ruled out that a person carrying a substantial sum of money for gambling may also have carried a gun.

Among the passengers were two employees of the Federal Aviation Agency. The agency emphasized that the men were not on official business.

Moments before it crashed, the plane acknowledged approach instructions to San Francisco International Airport from the Oakland approach control tower.

First Step For Harbor At Bolinas

Bolinas Harbor District directors last night approved a 50-year lease with Bahia Baulines, Inc., which will permit the Finley family to build a 110-acre boating and recreation marina on the eastern shore of Bolinas Lagoon.

The lease affects contiguous tidelands and ranchland on the hillside owned by the Finleys.

It will permit the harbor district to install a boat launching ramp within one year, Gene W. McDaniel, board president, said.

"It's the first step toward ultimate building of the harbor and it is hoped "it will enable us to get federal funds now being sought for harbor developments," he said.

The lease, subject to minor changes in wording, is expected to be signed within a few days. No figures were available today as to terms of the lease.

Automotive Tax Highest In U. S.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California motorists and other highway users paid $523,160,000 in federal automotive taxes in 1963, higher than any other state, the California Automobile Assn. reported today.

New York was second with 368.7 million dollars and Texas third with 328.5 million dollars.

The association said the federal revenue was collected through the 4-cent a gallon gasoline tax, the 10 per cent tax on new cars, trucks, and buses, the 10 cents a pound tax on tires and tubes, and other assorted excises.

Tiburon Residents Weigh Unification

The alleged advantages and disadvantages of bigness in school districts were set forth for some 200 Tiburon Peninsula residents attending a meeting last night in Reed School auditorium.

The session, on the proposal for unifying Tamalpais High School District and the elementary districts within its boundaries, was presented by the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club. Berton Jacobson of Belvedere introduced the speakers.

DR. RICHARD L. FOSTER, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District of Daly City and Greenbrae resident, insisted that the board of a larger district can be as "personal" as that of a smaller district. He said the unificaiton plan would provide greater competition for teachers, better development of schools better utilization of facilities, a full-fledged junior high school, and one bond issue instead of multiple bond issues.

J. RICHARD B. ELLIS, Kentfield School District trustee against the unification proposal, said the proposed unified district was too large and a smaller district is "closer to the community." He criticized the election of the seven-man board of trustees to be voted on at large but represent trustee areas.

MRS. MARILYN C. STEINAU, Reed District trustee, said the plan would benefit all children in Marin County. She said that a better job could be done with a larger district in regard to the teachers, flexibility of planning, clerical support, central supply, and purchasing.

DAVID D. RING, Reed trustee, said the county school district organization committee had never seriously studied more than one plan and that if the plan before the voters is defeated, the committee will present an alternate. He listed "economic data," saying there would be no saving to taxpayers under this plan and that the amount of money spent per child in the Reed District would drop from $540 to $465.

Ring claimed there had been "political shenanigans" in putting the trustee election at the same time as the unification vote and that it automatically eliminated one-half of the prospective candidates.

Foster said four proposals had been voted on by the school district organization committee.

Ellis said 10,000 was the op-

'Great Imposter' Gives Self Up

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ferdinand Waldo Demara, "the great imposter," surrendered today to the district attorney's office after being charged with grand theft of an automobile.

The famed, rotund Demara, 42, whose real-life impersonations of everything from Navy surgeon to trappist monk have been portrayed in a movie, denied he stole a station wagon from a Central California boys' camp.

He said he was still employed by the camp when he left and had full authority to use the vehicle.

JOHNSON APPEALS FOR RACE JUSTICE

President Winds Up Poverty Tour Saying South Probably To End Strife Before North

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson, touring the Deep South, called today for "justice among the races." And he suggested that much of the South will find racial peace "before the end of racial strife in the cities of the North."

Johnson made his dramatic appeal for the civil rights cause in an address prepared for a breakfast meeting with members of the Georgia Legislature. His remarks, canvassing what he termed the "many troubles" of the South, were certain to be regarded as unusually significant.

Winding up a six-state tour of poverty-pocked Appalachia, the president suggested that in searching for racial justice, Georgia and the South "have a sure and faithful guide — the Constitution of the United States."

He declared: "Because the Constitution requires it — and because justice demands it— we must protect the constitutional rights of all of our people.

"For no one of us is fully free until all of us are fully free. And the rights of no single American are truly secure until the rights of all Americans are secure."

Johnson said that "racial problems have deep roots in Southern soil." However, he emphasized his view that such problems are not peculiar to any single section, saying:

"They also trouble the passions of men on the shores of Maryland, in the slums of Philadelphia and in the streets of New York."

Actually, he took a hopeful view of the tribulations of the South, with these words: "We may well find racial peace in much of the South before the end of racial strife in the cities of the North."

Johnson also appealed for rejection of extremism. Conjuring memories of the Civil War, he said:

"Heed not those who come waving the tattered and discredited banners of the past— who seek to stir old hostilities and kindle old hatreds — who preach battle between neighbors and bitterness between states. That is the way back toward the anguish from which we came."

In his swift passage yesterday through Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee and North Carolina, Johnson made clear his zest for his job and his hope of retaining it.

This was most clear in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., when he coupled an appeal for support of his antipoverty program with jabs at two Republicans who may try to get his job in the fall — former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Johnson said Republicans already are calling his antipoverty proposals a "cruel hoax" —words used last week by Nixon. And he said that if such men had their way. "The 'for sale' sign would be on TVA this very hour." It was Goldwater who once suggested that the Tennessee Valley Authority be put up for sale.

In Atlanta and half a dozen other cities in Appalachia and the South, cheering thousands turned out to greet Johnson. Total official estimates of the crowds along the way came to nearly half a million.

Mosk Enters Housing Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has entered the court battle to block from the November ballot the initiative measure to nullify California's Rumford Housing Act.

In a friend-of-the-court brief filed yesterday with the State Supreme Court, Mosk contended the proposed initiative would destroy "the power of the state to deal effectively with one of the pressing problems of the Twentieth Century."

Mosk's brief — filed at the unanimous request of the State Board of Education—was entered in the suit by Howard G. Lewis of Sacramento. Named in the suit are Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan, the California Committee for Home Protection and the California Real Estate Association.

The Rumford act bans race discrimination in the sale or rental of most housing in the state.

Rights Leader Warns U.S. Nears State Of Emergency

NEW YORK (UPI)—The seething anger of Negroes and the resentment of whites are forcing the country into a state of national emergency, a civil rights leader warned last night.

Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, said he feared that "large numbers of both groups will drift into extremist groups of the black nationalists on one hand and the white supremacists on the other."

Young, speaking before the Johns Hopkins Club of New York, said unless President Lyndon B. Johnson and Congress take "immediate and far-reaching steps, I do not think there is any Negro leader who will dare to say that he is responsible for his membership or that he could dare to speak for the Negro community."

I have never seen an ass who talked like a human being, but I have met many human beings who talked like asses.—Heinrich Heine.

'Poor Taste Church Art Days Over'

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI has proposed a "new alliance" between the papacy and the world of art, which have been moving apart steadily since the Renaissance.

The pontiff admitted yesterday that past policies of the Roman Catholic Church had sometimes fostered conformism and poor taste.

In a sermon after a mass for Italian artists, the pontiff took to task modern writers and painters who turn to immoral subjects or use a language as unclear to themselves and others as the "language of Babel."

But he also confessed that the church, after splendidly patronizing art in Renaissance days, had erred later by setting stifling patterns, making "imitation" the rule, and sometimes settling for cheap, tawdry sacred art works.

All this is over now, the Pope said.

He said the Ecumenical Council's new constitution of liturgy, which opens the door cautiously but firmly to modern art, is "a great act of this new alliance with the artist . . . the pact of reconciliation and of rebirth of religious art inside the Catholic Church."

The first authorized pictures of the United States Senate in action were taken recently. We are not absolutely sure this is the way to make the nation feel more secure. — Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Pre-War Envoy From Japan Dies

TOKYO (AP) — Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura, Japan's ambassador to the United States when his country attacked Pearl Harbor, died today after a long illness at 86.

Nomura

Nomura and special envoy Saburo Kurusu received one of the stiffest tongue-lashings in diplomatic annals when they arrived at the State Department on Dec. 7, 1941 bringing Japan's rejection of the latest U.S. peace formula. Bombs had just begun falling on the Pacific outpost.

They entered Secretary of State Cordell Hull's office smiling and bowing and handed him the Japanese note.

Then Hull exploded, telling the two shocked envoys:

"In all my 50 years of public service, I have never seen a document that was more crowded with infamous falsehoods and distortions."

Nomura has repeatedly denied any advance knowledge of the attack.

"I must have been the worst-informed ambassador in history," he said on a visit to the United States in 1953.

Captain Who Defected To Be Tried

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI)—U.S. Army Capt. Alfred Svenson, who was returned to the West more than a year after defecting to East Germany, will be court martialed for desertion and possibly for betraying secrets, military sources said today.

Svenson

The sources said Svenson, 31, of Scranton, Pa., is undergoing medical and security examination at an undisclosed Army hospital in West Germany.

The Lithuanian-born captain, a bachelor, had served as an intelligence officer in his armored unit stationed on the West German border.

Desertion carries a penalty of dishonorable discharge and two years in prison. Betraying secrets could bring a death penalty.

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (UPI)—Many families were reported homeless in the Mbulu area of Northern Tanganyika today after a strong earth tremor rocked the eastern half of the country. Reports reaching here said the center of the tremor was near Mbulu and was the largest ever recorded in the area.

Clash In Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI) — Police battled angry farmhands in the streets here last night in clashes in which at least 17 persons were wounded. The farmhands, most of them sugar-plantation workers from Artigas Province in Northern Uruguay, are demanding that Congress approve the seizure of "unproductive lands."

MARGARET AZEVEDO
Heads civic council

Civic Affairs Council Names Mrs. Azevedo

Mrs. Margaret Azevedo of Tiburon last night was elected chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, succeeding N. Robert Heyer.

Mrs. Azevedo had been on the council's board of directors and was head of a committee studying community problems. She is a former Marin County planning commissioner.

She also has been named by Gov. Edmund G. Brown to serve on a commission studying transportation needs of the San Francisco Bay Area.

Harold Watkin of Kentfield was named vice chairman, and Milen C. Dempster of Mill Valley, as treasurer. Four board members, Mrs. Russell R. Klein, Robert E. Mertle, Joseph A. Forest and Walter E. Zurcher, were named to the executive committee.

The council board selected projects for the next 12 months, making land use planning the major topic, with an emphasis on gaining greater cooperation between cities and county in planning.

Other projects include a study of transit services in Marin, preparatory to the expected vote to establish a Marin County transit district; action on possible alternative to arches for controlling traffic on the Golden Gate Bridge, and work on studies for a new crossing of the bay between Marin and San Francisco.

The group decided to have observers cover meetings of the county board of supervisors (especially at budget time), the local agency formation commission, and the citizens advisory committee on cooperation in government.

Radio Helpful When Cow Is Discontented

HARDY, Neb. (AP) — Ward Aurand used a walkie-talkie radio to summon help when a black Angus cow attacked him while he was in the pasture.

During a lull in the cow's attack Aurand called for help on his walkie-talkie radio and his brother Glenn came to the rescue. The animal had knocked Aurand to the ground and inflicted injuries that sent him to the hospital for two days.

Refugees Change Look Of Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Some time ago, pedestrian signs in downtown Miami were erected to Spanish and English, for the benefit of the Cuban refugees.

As a further safety precaution, railroad crossings are now being marked with rectangular signs showing a set of railroad tracks.

RESCUE

to go back to the truck," Porteous said.

About 6 p.m. they reached a tool shed which they had passed a few hours earlier.

"We knew that we could never make it back to the truck, so we kicked in the door" and stayed in the shed, Porteous said. It proved to be the worst night of their ordeal.

"I burned everything in my billfold, including all my identification to try to keep warm, Porteous said.

"We listened to the radio and knew that they were searching for us in the Iowa Hill area and then had gone to the Eel River area," Porteous said.

On Wednesday the weather was clear. They set off flares. Porteous waved his red shirt at a passing plane. They honked the horn of the pickup truck in three long blasts. Each had a pistol, which they fired three shots at a time.

Still, no rescue arrived.

By mid-afternoon they realized that if they were going to get out, they must do it on their own. They cleared the snow off the truck so it could be seen from the air and started out about 3 p.m., headed for Forest Hills.

The strain of hiking through the deep snow was too much for Porteous. After about two hours, he was retching and had chest pains.

"Bob turned back and I went on," Scott said.

Porteous made it back to the truck. Scott hiked on all night. At 7 a.m. yesterday he reached the house of a California highway patrolman in Forest Hills.

The patrolman was able to intercept a helicopter that was leaving to search in the Iowa Hill area and send it to the proper location. The pilot, Robert L. Hine of the Aerolift Corp., brought Porteous out about 45 minutes later.

The patrolman's wife prepared Scott a big breakfast: two cans of peaches, eggs, coffee and milk. Porteous said he could not eat when offered food. He had one cup of coffee and, about 1 p.m., yesterday, a milk shake.

They were taken to the Placer County sheriff's office, then to Auburn Hospital, where Scott's blistered feet were bandaged.

Their fathers and a group of Marin and Sonoma friends who had joined the search were reunited with them in Auburn.

Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Porteous said the search party was unable to reach the pickup truck yesterday, even with heavy equipment. Another attempt to reach it was to be made today, they said.

Bondage To Bottle? Evidence Is Mounting

By WIL LEPKOWSKI
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Evidence is mounting that the alcoholic's bondage to the bottle is hereditary.

A University of Texas research group has assembled an impressive amount of information showing that definite differences exist in the body chemistry between alcoholics and casual drinkers.

These differences are traced back to the makeup of the alcoholic's genes — the units that carry biological traits and pass them on from generation to generation. (Genes are in nuclei of all cells, but work in reproduction by way of the sex cells.)

Biochemists Frank L. Siegel, Mary K. Roach, and Leon R. Pomeroy measured blood levels of various types of substances known as amino acids, the fundamental units of proteins. They found that alcoholics possessed distortions in these substances in comparison with levels in light drinkers.

Psychological and other stresses are important in the development of alcoholism, they reported in "Proceedings," Journal of the National Academy of Sciences, "but it is suggested that constitutional factors may convey unusual susceptibility to stress in alcoholism-prone individuals."

Alcohol proneness is indeed complicated. Researchers have for years been trying to locate the factors that drive a person compulsively to drink. Tension is involved, to be sure, but an influential school of researchers think there is something built into the chemistry of alcoholics that reacts to stress.

Past research has pointed to such altered body chemistry. Alcoholics reportedly have imbalances of minerals, sugars, and vitamins in their systems. But it was hard for scientists to determine whether such anomalies were part of the natural makeup of the alcoholic or were themselves caused by alcoholism.

The Texas group compared amino acid levels of alcoholics and light drinkers before breakfast. As expected there were differences. Then they investigated what the drinking of alcohol would do to the levels.

"For many amino acids," they reported, "the effect of ethanol (alcohol) in the alcoholic group is opposite to that in the control group, and this difference serves to distinguish the groups from one another."

The real eyebrow raiser centered on one particular amino acid known as glutamine. In normal subjects, glutamine levels rose as soon as they took a drink. But in alcoholics the amount of blood glutamine stayed the same.

Based on past research, the researchers concluded that glutamine somehow reduced the craving for alcohol in moderate drinkers. Alcoholics, through some genetic defect, were unable to manufacture this thirst killer.

Bolstering this conclusion are previous tests showing that glutamine fed to alcoholics seems to reduce their craving for alcohol. But this discovery is in dispute.

Dr. Ebbe Hoff of the Medical College of Virginia, Richmand, says his own alcoholism research has found no evidence that glutamine therapy works. He said in an interview, however, that research is definitely pointing toward the conviction that alcoholism basically has hereditary roots.

"It should not be surprising if it becomes possible to spot potential alcoholics based on their body chemistries," he said. "There are a constellation of psycholigical and social factors that sustain the drinking habit but it is very likely that the triggering mechanism is chemical."

Dr. Hoff's work revolves around studies of how alcohol is broken down in the body—whether the alcoholic handles it a different way from normal persons. He is trying to pinpoint these differences through studies with laboratory animals and human cell cultures.

Current methods of treating alcoholics range from vitamins to psychotherapy. Tranquilizers, said Dr. Hoff, have been particularly useful in setting the patient in a proper frame of mind to accept psychotherapy. Alcoholics anonymous, it goes almost without saying, has itself had impressive success in those drinkers with the persistence to fight the habit.

The U. S. Public Health Service recently announced the appointment of a 21 member committee to coordinate all government research on alcoholism. Government statistics say there are about 5,000,000 alcoholics in this country and that the number increases by 200,000 each year.

Speed Record Calls For Special Tires

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Craig Breedlove set a world's land speed record of 407 miles an hour in his jet car "Spirit of America" on tires with paper-thin treads.

The tires were made that way because centrifugal force and heat, not wear, are the chief problems in driving at high speeds, says the Goodyear Co., designers of the tires.

Walnut manufacturers report that most choice walnut trees bring only a few hundred dollars to their owners. Though a rare tree — it has to be unusually large and perfect — can yield veneer worth $20,000, This figure applies only to the finished product as installed after costly processing.

Span Board Puzzled By Marin

Directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District were somewhat puzzled today by a resolution passed by Marin County Supervisors urging bay-wide study of a second crossing.

Directors thought this was in conflict with an earlier resolution of the board urging a Marin crossing only be considered.

Directors also want to find out if it would be legal for the bridge district to put up $500,000 for study of a north-south bridge providing a second link to Marin. A proposed appropriation of $500,000 for a bay-wide study was recently killed by the state legislature.

Stinson Favors Package Planning

Stinson Beach Progressive Club directors Wednesday night went on record opposing indefinite postponement of zoning of outlying areas as proposed by the Marin County Planning Commission.

"We would like a package deal to have zoning tied into the master plan all at once," said Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, secreetary-treasurer. She said the planning commission is currently discussing zoning for Stinson Beach and Bolinas.

The board appointed Mrs. Greene to look into the possibility of joining the Marin County Mosquito Abatement District.

Truman Welcomed Back To Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Harry Truman got a thunderous welcome back to the Senate on his 80th birthday today and was so overcome with emotion he could not make a speech.

The former president helped make history, however, by the few remarks he did make. He became the first ex-president to address the Senate during an official session in the chamber, under a rules change adopted last year.

"I'm a little overcome," he said, his voice choking. "This is one of the greatest things that has happened to me in my whole life." But he said, because of his emotion, he couldn't take advantage of the opportunity to make a speech.

Marin Skin Divers' Films Will Be Shown

Several Marin skin divers will appear in two underwater color films to be shown tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Park School auditorium in Mill Valley. Donations will go to the community and youth center, Clay Underhill, fund drive chairman, said today.

Alfred F. Giddings Jr. of San Rafael directed the film, "The Beckoning Sea," filmed in Baja California. "The Under World," produced and filmed by Leroy French of San Rafael, concerns the Pallincar Reef in the Spanish Main and was filmed off Yucatan, Mexico. Skin divers William Woods and Sherman Stewart of Mill Valley appear in the film.

Negro Indicted In Death Attempt

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ernest D. Young, a Negro state delegate, was indicted today on charges of conspiring to kill the Negro state senator from the same legislative district, Verda F. Welcome.

Mrs. Welcome, first Negro woman to be elected to the Maryland Senate two years ago, was shot April 10 while getting out of her car in front of her home. She was wounded only slightly in the back and left heel. She said there were five shots.

The indictment against Young, 36, a lawyer, charges he did "hire and command" four other men to attempt to murder Mrs. Welcome.

Novatan Hurt —Hit Hydrant

Mrs. Beverly June Swenson, 41, of 500 Country Club Drive, Novato, suffered minor bruises and cuts on her left knee and arm, and a sprained ankle when her car hit a fire hydrant on Alameda de la Loma south of Fairway Drive, Novato, yesterday, Novato police reported.

Mrs. Swenson told police that she was momentarily distracted by a noise behind the car. She looked away—and hit the hydrant.

She was to see her own doctor for treatment.

TAMALPAIS

"If they want to annex, let them annex Homestead, Almonte, Tam Valley and Tennessee Valley and let the voters have a chance to vote on it," said the commissioner.

He said annexation law requires that if there are not 12 registered voters in a key area, it is considered uninhabited and can be annexed by a city government. "We have 12 but they have not registered. It will take 54 days," he warned.

"We fought the freeway and we didn't get the freeway," said Mrs. Midge Hamburg, club director. "Don't take the attitude there's nothing we can do."

Fire Chief Herbert Owen said "We're working along with Alto (fire district) and preparing maps and materials."

"This has brought to a head taxation without representation," said club president Mulcahey. "Why should we in this valley or Tennessee Valley not incorporate into a city ourselves? Why should not we receive that tax money? Why not be able to receive street lights? I would like a sidewalk for my child to play on. I would like police protection."

Mrs. Hamburg reported she had received literature on incorporation from the county and that the area must have 10 million dollars in assessed valuation, that boundaries must first determined and it must be decided whether to take in Tennessee Valley and Homestead.

Batz said total assessed valuation in the fire district, which includes Tamalpais Valley, Homestead and Almonte, is just shy of nine million dollars.

Mrs. Esther Allen suggested a committee be set up to study incorporation, saying "We do not want to get embroiled in a political thing . . . We found this when we talked about incorporation before."

Karl Hoffman said he worries about "indiscriminate lack of planning of building in the valley." Saying he is "of a suspicious mind," he added, "I wonder about the silence of Sausalito. Do they have any designs? I wonder if we're being cut up by the two city councils."

Hoffman was appointed chairman of the annexation committee, to report in July. Other members named are Jean Cantin, Mrs. Herbert Owen, Charles Norton and Frank Bennett.

On reappraisals, Mulcahey said "We wouldn't mind 1, 2, or 3 per cent increase, but not 20 to 70 per cent."

Alfred Fleigner, who said he is 62 and retired, complained, "They're trying to send us to the poor house and you have not even got a poorhouse in the county. My boat is sinking." He said his house was appraised at $8,000 and now is assessed at $18,000.

Mulcahey asked that a letter be written to the county assessor protesting the increased appraisal and requesting reevaluation or a reduction.

Byron Boulware said, "There are only so many tax dollars that will be demanded of you. When assessed value goes up and the number of tax dollars stays at the same level, then your tax rate will go down to procure for the government agencies just that number of tax dollars."

Albert Bianchi, attorney, told club members that the Army Corps. of Engineers can take possession of the clubhouse on or about June 15. He said the County Department of Public Works wants an 18-foot easement, will put flumes in and give the club the property to build a building over it. However, county counsel's opinion is that the 18-foot strip must be sold on a permanent basis and, he said, the two triangular strips of land left over would be too small to build upon.

Bianchi said that the $3,415 offered by the county for the building and strp is not at all suitable, that an appraser, now making his appraisal, is expected to place a fair market value on the property five to 10 times that of the county offer. He said the ultimate decision is up to a jury and "we will ask that the club be awarded not less than $30,000."

It was announced that the club's new box number will be P. O. Box 370, Mill Valley, and the next meeting June 4, is planned for the old hall. If this is impossible, it will be held at the Methodist Church. But, Mulcahey added, "we're not vacating the hall until we get our price."

Young Demos Expected To Urge Cuban Talks

FRESNO (UPI)—The California Federation of Young Democrats is expected to repeat the call it made last year for opening of talks between Cuba and the United States during its annual convention which opens tonight.

Joseiah Beeman, federation president, said today a platform has been prepared which will follow closely last year's, including the establishment of talks with Cuba, unrestricted travel for U.S. citizens, including travel to Cuba and Red China, and a strong position in favor of the Rumford Fair Housing Law.

These Men Can Hunt All The Time

RICHLAND, Wash. (UPI) — Charles McCoy and Bob Beavers have a license to hunt and fish the year around. It's their job. Furthermore, they are provided with ammunition, guns, rods, bait, lures and even a boat.

Beavers and McCoy work for the Radiation Protection Operation at the Atomic Energy Commission's laboratories at the Hanford Atomic Works near here.

It is their job to check for possible contamination from the huge plutonium plant. Consequently, they fish the Columbia River from McNary Dam to Priest Rapids. And they shoot ducks and geese on the Hanford Reservation. Their quarry is then examined for redioactivity.

McCoy and Beavers are part of a team that checks for radiation within a radius of 700 miles of Hanford. Other personnel investigate milk supplies, test drinking water and pasture grass, and sample air as far away as Great Falls, Mont.

But McCoy and Beavers are the lucky ones. All they do the year around is hunt and fish.

They bag about 100 ducks and geese a year and they can do it from a powerboat, a privilege denied ordinary nimrods, Their happy hunting grounds inside the reservation boundaries are closed to every other hunter.

The fishing is necessary, McCoy explained, because the river's waters are used to cool Hanford's atomic reactors. Although the water is held in "cooling" ponds for long periods of time, phosphorous and zinc elements in the water become radioactive when they pass through the reactor. These elements collect in fish and also can be traced in river water used for irrigation.

So far, however, the protection operation scientists have not found any amount of radiation to be concerned about.

But the search continues and McCoy and Beaver are the envy of thousands. In fact, McCoy likes his work so well that when he takes a vacation, he goes fishing.

timum number of students in a unified district, according to the State Board of Education. He said salary adjustments would be necessary to bring all teachers up to the high school amount.

Employers Are Having Field Day In Germany

FRANKFORT (UPI) — Butchers, bakers and candlestick makers have no trouble finding jobs in West Germany these days, and there are openings for space scientists as well.

With six vacancies for every jobless persons, employers are outbidding each other for manpower, the country's most precious commodity.

A leading newspaper, Frankfurter Allgemeine, recently carried 44 pages of "help wanted" advertisements. This has been a commonplace since the "economic miracle" kicked the bottom out of the labor barrel.

The job seeker is king. He can select the most attractive offer. And what a wealth of offers he has to select from!

The German Society for Outer Space Research, looking for specialists, in a newspaper advertisement promised a five-day week, separation pay, moving expenses, housing allowance, general cost of living subsidies, advance pay, old-age benefits, civil service pension and full medical insurance.

The advertisement did not say so, but the company apparently pays a salary too.

But fringe benefits are not confined to space scientists. They apply to maids and cleaning women as well.

Only nobody calls them maids and cleaning women any more.

Frantic housewives recognized they had to act to save these rare species from extinction as the lure of booming factories and bustling offices became greater.

First they offered higher salaries. No luck. Then came the fringe benefits: social security, no work after 6 p.m. and on weekends, a month's vacation every year.

Still no luck.

Then, some ingenious housewife had a brainstorm. She advertised for a "house daughter." The psychological trick must have worked because everybody copied it.

It also worked for cleaning women, who are now referred to as "caretakeresses"—at least in the "help wanted" ads.

Psychologists conclude nobody wants to be called a maid or a cleaning woman because these job classifications are negative status symbols in a country where the lower income groups strive to belong to the middle class.

Income plays a bigger role in West Germany today than it ever did before.

Under Kaiser Wilhelm and Adolf Hitler, people were not judged by income. There was an upper class of government officials and university professors and a lower class of the rest of humanity.

Now people are judged by the cars they drive and apartments they occupy and other factors permitting a rough estimate of earnings.

The academician still ranks high regardless of income. But the independent businessman has climbed on the status scale because he makes money.

Mill Valley Land Review Is Slated

Two hundred of the 650 parcels of land discussed during the past three days at the county assessor's information bureau in Mill Valley will be reviewed, Hershel W. Johnson, assistant assessor, said today.

Johnson said 400 property owners representing 650 parcels visited the bureau. Total number of parcels affected in reappraisal in the Mill Valley area, outside of incorporated Mill Valley, is 5,400, he said.

An average of 16 men answered queries each day at the bureau.

The next information bureau will be held at the IDESSI Hall in Sausalito, Tuesday and Wednesday, 1 to 9 p.m.

Sleepy Hollow Need For Police Is Cited

Need for additional police action to stop speeding on Butterfield Road and surrounding streets in the Sleepy Hollow area will be studied by a special four-member committee of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn.

"We have been having problems with young people speeding through the residential areas and the committee has formed to study the feasibility of additional traffic patrols in the district," Roland L. Hauck Jr., association president said today, following a board of directors meeting last night.

"All residents are beinig asked to report traffic violations to the California Highway Patrol and follow through with signing warrants against violators," he said.

Final plans for a dance to be held May 23 in celebration of completion of the new addition to the clubhouse were reviewed. The Memorial Day also was discussed.

Next meeting of the association will be at 8 p.m. May 20.

Hoover's Tenure With FBI May Go On Indefinitely

WASHINGTON (ANS) — J. Edgar Hoover's tenure as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be extended indefinitely, it was learned today.

Hoover, who will reach the statutory age limit of 70 next Jan. 1, entered the justice department July 26, 1917 and assumed direction of the FBI on May 10, 1924. He will observe his 40th anniversary as head of the agency Sunday.

Seven bills dealing with the selection and tenure of Hoover's successor have been introduced in congress but have not reached the floor. They provide for selecton of the next FBI chief by presidential appoinement with the consent of congress. They would also limit the FBI director's tenure to a maximum of 15 years.

The statutory age limit concerning Hoover's continued service is expected to be waived, perhaps by the president, Friday. Hoover will be able to serve under the special edict "indefinitely."

Six Injured As Car Runs Off Curve

Six youths were injured yesterday when the 1960 Opel in which they were riding ran off a sharp curve on the Shoreline Highway, one and one-half miles south of Olema, at 5:45 p.m.

The driver, Ralph Vernon Gulbransen Jr., 17, of 81 Via Navarro, Greenbrae, swung his car wide to avoid an oncoming car on the curve. He was cited by the California Highway Patrol for speeding.

Gulbransen was treated at Marin General Hospital for bruises and kept under observation. His brother, John, 15, was kept under observation at the hospital for a bruised forehead. Ken Tucker, 16, of 29 Corte Lodato, Greenbrae, was treated for a cut forehead.

Steve Mattos, 16, of 290 Via Casitas, Greenbrae, was treated for a cut right heel. Connie Bricca, 15, of 6 Rancheria Road, Kentfield, was examined and released. Len Pieri, 15, of 35 Rancheria Road, Kentfield, was treated for a bruised forehead and scraped shoulder.

Not Campaigning, Nixon Asserts

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said today he is "not campaigning in Nebraska, or in Oregon, or anywhere else where primaries remain for write-in support."

"If the delegates feel I am best qualified to lead the fight against President Johnson, then I'm ready to do the job," Nixon said.

Nixon told a news conference that if the voters "of their own volition" wish to support him for the Republican presidential nomination, he will "not try to affect that decision one way or the other."

Nixon said his mission now was to seek unity within the Republican party behind whomever is selected at the convention.

Planes Make 45 Video Landings

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pilots, using only closed-circuit television for vision, recently made 45 successful landings and three take-offs, the government reported today.

The Commerce Department's Office of Technical Services said the experiments were carried out with the television camera mounted in the wing of trainer-type aircraft.

Pilots made the landings and take-offs while viewing a 12-inch screen in the cockpit.

Bonn Indicates More Viet Aid

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's government indicated today it will increase economic aid to South Vietnam.

The West German government took this position on the eve of a three-day visit to Bonn by U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, who will continue to South Vietnam.

President Lyndon B. Johnson has expressed hope that other allied nations would help in Vietnam. West Germany says that during the last 18 months, it has provided about $17.5 million in economic aid.

RIGHT IN THEIR OWN FRONT YARD — College of Marin students dig for Indian relics a few feet from their geology classroom. Excavation of this area of the campus is being pushed in hope of recovering as many artifacts as possible before bulldozers move into the area to prepare it for a new student center building.

OBSIDIAN ITEMS — Stephen C. Bruff (left), College of Marin geology teacher, inspects with interest arrowheads and other small tools made of obsidian, dug up by students on the college campus in Kentfield. Obsidian, he points out, is not found in Marin, indicating travels by the Indians or trade with other Indian settlements.

IT COULD HAPPEN HERE

'Tunnel Of Love' Has Good Audience

By KARL BARRON

"Tunnel of Love" paints a brittle portrait of suburbia. It is set in Westport, Conn., but it could be here.

Last night's enthusiastic first nighters at the Ross Valley Players production of the Peter DeVries-Joseph Fields hit comedy obviously got the message—and loved it.

The handsomely mounted show, with set by John Lee and Bill Waldon, continues at the Barn in Ross tonight, tomorrow night, May 15, 16, 22, and 23. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. It is generally well paced under the direction of Bill McCall, and is a fitting tribute to the Players' 34th anniversary on May 15.

The play is based on the efforts of a childless couple—expatriates from Manhattan—to adopt a child. The husband, a faithful, non-glamor type, is seduced by a social worker, and the illegitimate child the Pooles finally adopt is his own.

The laughs come endlessly, ranging from good gags to very funny situations. And the players—just six of them—are semi-pros and ex-pros. Portions of the second and third acts seemed slow, but this may be the play itself.

Augie Poole, the father, is played as a tremendously believable Milquetoast by Ted Schuster, while Tykie Casie as Isolde Poole looks and acts just like the girl next door who's expecting her first.

Joe Waddington, former professional actor now a drama teacher at Redwood High School, has a ball for himself as Augie's woman-chasing friend with ever-ready wit and a sack full of gags.

As Alice Pepper, the woman chaser's always pregnant wife, Virginia O'Brien does a consistently funny portrayal, while her waistline ranges from small to large and back again.

Glory Stevens as the seductive social worker fought back at the play's most unconvincing character and won, for this reviewer.

"Tunnel of Love" is one of those rarities—a play based upon a sexual situation which could be treated vulgarly, but which isn't. The whole thing is great fun, and we suggest that you see it, if tickets are still available.

Students Are Finding Indian Artifacts At Classroom Door

They're Sifting 'Garbage Dump' At Building Site

By PHIL FRADKIN

College of Marin students this week have been walking out of the doorway of their geology classroom to dig up Indian artifacts and skeletons a few feet away.

Students in a historical geology class began an intensive search for relics of the coast Miwok civilization, literally "at the doorstep" of their classroom.

Under the supervision of geology instructor Stephen C. Bruff, they are hurrying because site preparation for the student center is scheduled to begin early in June. The area will be dug up by bulldozers.

Teeth, part of a skull, human and animal bones, arrowheads, grinders, blades and scrapers have been found by the students. Bruff said they were left by the coast Miwok Indians and could be as old as 1,000 or 2,000 years.

The geology instructor believes the area, generally extending from the college library to the parking lot near Olney Hall, was an Indian "garbage dump." From a campsite in the center of the College campus quadrangle on a knoll, he theorizes, the Indians threw their refuse into the area.

It is not a burial ground, he says, because skeletons have not been recovered intact. "It must have been a large encampment," he says, because of the large dumping area.

Students carefully brushed dirt off a crushed skull yesterday with whisk brooms and Bruff commented, "something must have happened to him."

Bruff estimated the teeth from the skull came from a "fairly old Indian—about 35 years old." The teeth were worn down through the enamel to the gum line from chewing leather or eating shell fish and chewing on tough food.

More portions of the skeleton, such as legbones and portions of the skull, were unearthed by students who carefully tried to fit the bones together, jig-saw puzzle fashion.

Napa counties or traded with Indians there.

Since 1934, Indian artifacts have been found on the campus and in the Kentfield area. Bruff hopes that all the articles that have been given the College or unearthed by students can eventually be displayed in a college museum.

Bruff says the articles found already do not constitute a "major find." However, if an undisturbed skeleton or rare artifact is uncovered, he plans to call in experts from University of California.

Students, many of them volunteers who are not in Bruff's classes, have been scraping off about six inches of topsoil and then digging parallel and at right angles.

"When we hit something, we just dig down and investigate," Bruff said. So far the students have dug only in a small part of the total area in which Indian artifacts are known to be lying.

Despite the concentrated effort, Bruff says "a lot of very valuable things will be lost when the bulldozers start their work." When excavations start for the student center building, Bruff plans to have students stand by to see what is unearthed.

"It is unique. It is something right in our own backyard that we have been able to work on," he comments.

Northgate North Master Plan To Be Re-Submitted

The master plan for a 10-acre development at Northgate North, once denied by the San Rafael Planning Commission, will be re-submitted to the commission at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at San Rafael City Hall.

The plan, submitted by contractor D. M. Christensen, includes a motor hotel, office building and two gasoline service stations at the site north of Manuel Freitas Parkway at the Terra Linda interchange.

Besides seeking approval of the plan, Christensen is seeking use permits and architectural approval for the planned buildings.

The commission also will have a public hearing on the rezoning of Port Bello West, between Porto Bello and Harbor Estates, from unclassified and duplex to planned community district, as requested by San Rafael Newport Co.

Other items on the agenda include a tentative map of a 59-lot subdivision, Terra Linda Unit 22, on an extension of Tamarack Drive; a tentative map of a 45-lot subdivision, Highland Vista 2, west of the extension of Ridgewood Drive; resubmittal of a request for permit for a car wash building at Francisco and Bellam boulevards by Fred Pape, which was denied April 28, and renewal of a tentative map for the 226-lot Bellam Subdivision, east of Bellam Boulevard.

You can count on it: the only people who listen to both sides of an argument are the neighbors.—Kodiak (Alaska) Mirror.

FIRST FOR SONOMA STATE — The architect's sketch above depicts the design of the first permanent classroom building to be constructed at Sonoma State College at Rohnert Park, estimated to cost $2,400,000. The State Office of Architecture and Construction called for bids on construction this week. The building initially will have facilities for 770 students, plus administrative space, student personnel space and library. Ultimately, when it is devoted strictly to classroom purposes, it will have a student capacity of 2,000.

Higher Degrees Approved For State Colleges

COTATI (AP) — Four new masters degrees and one new bachelor degree have been approved for award by four colleges by the State College Board of Trustees.

A master of science in material science and a master of science in meterorology were approved for San Jose State College this week. The meterology degree was approved pending agreement by the Coordinating Council of Higher Education.

California State College at Hayward now will be able to award a master of science in education.

San Francisco State College can award masters of science degrees in chemistry and physics.

The Kellogg campus of Cal Poly, Pomona, received approval to award a bachelor of science in chemical engineering.

The trustees also approved schematic plans for a 7-million-dollar library addition at Los Angeles State College.

Schematic plans for the second phase of construction of outdoor physical education facilities were approved for Sonoma State College at a cost of $321,000.

Working drawings for a $3.23 million science building at Sonoma State also were approved.

Cancer Solution Near, Says President-Elect Of AMA

Dr. Norman A. Welch of Boston, Mass., president-elect of the American Medical Assn., was optimistic yesterday that the cancer problem will soon be solved.

A tremendous amount of work has been accomplished in cancer research, and the answer is "not too far away," he said.

Dr. Welch talked of the progress in medicine during the last 25 years and the progress expected during the next 25 years at a meeting of the Marin Medical Society at the Meadow Club last night.

During the past 25 years childhood diseases and infectious diseases have been controlled with the aid of antibiotics, he said in a pre-speech interview.

In the future he expects control of cancer, blood vessel diseases and more transplanting of organs such as the kidneys "and perhaps the liver and perhaps the heart."

People are goin to live longer in the future, he said. Life expectancy, now pegged at a little over 70, "will go to 90."

Dr. Welch also said he is concerned with preserving the freedom of medical practice in the United States. "It's the only area of freedom of medical practice in the world today," he said.

Government control of medical practice would delay the progress of medicine, he claimed.

For example, in England with socialized medicine only one hospital has been built since World War II, he said. "One out of three of their medical graduates are leaving the country."

In contrast, medical graduates from foreign countries are seeking to enter the United States, he said.

Dr. Welch said he would urge the Marin Medical Society to make its position known on legislation affecting the profession.

The public will get what it wants, but "we should give them our point of view so they can get our side," he said.

While opposing government control, Dr. Welch pointed out that "government money is going into research because private sources of money are drying up."

Dr. Welch, now serving as a consultant physician for five Massachusetts hospitals, will become president of the AMA June 23 in San Francisco.

College Teaching Load Reduction Is In Sight

A policy of reducing the teaching load of College of Marin teachers to 15 units a semester "as soon as possible" was adopted by the Marin Junior College District board last night.

A teacher committee asked either the reduction in teaching load (now 18 units) or an increase in salaries—or both.

The policy motion, by trustee Elizabeth M. Deedy, included provisions for employment of additional faculty members as the budget permitted and called on the administration to make full use of other means of teaching load adjustment.

Trustees considered reducing the teaching load by either (1) hiring six more teachers or (2) increasing class sizes.

Mrs. Deedy said she had reservations about the latter choice, as larger classes might decrease the effectiveness of instruction. Trustee Robert E. Oliver said it would be foolhardy to agree to add six teachers before a thorough review of the 1964-65 budget.

The policy decision on an "if and when" basis was adopted as a compromise.

Trustees also voted to advertise for bids, if state law requires advertising, for installation of a second language laboratory on the Kentfield campus, for which $6,857 has been allocated from National Defense Education Act funds as 50 per cent contribution.

The Marin Junior College District Board also:

1. Heard progress reports on conversion of the college's property at Bolinas into a marine biology teaching and research center, which is scheduled to be ready for a four-week summer session class starting June 22.

2. Agreed to study the revised tentative budget for 1964-65 of $2,416,326 which includes $45,487 in unallocated reserves. The district has estimated a 10 per cent increase in assessed valuation, from $321,533,950 to $353,687,345.

3. Learned that purchase of the first of six parcels for the 333-acre northern campus site on the Pacheco Ranch south of Novato has been completed. The first parcel contains 78 acres and cost $200,000.

4. Authorized preparation of bids for instructional, operating and maintenance supplies and equipment for 1964-65.

5. Discussed parking areas for the coming school year when construction of the College Center will close the 200-space lot between the library, science building and Campus Drive. Development of additional parking areas between the fieldhouse and College Avenue and the bleachers and College Avenue and northern Laurel Avenue is expected to creat nearly 1,000 parking spaces in the area, an increase of 180 spaces from the present plan.

6. Approved preparation of a College of Marin booth for the Marin Art and Garden Fair to be held July 1-5.

7. Re-employed 76 faculty members.

8. Received a report on feasibility of establishing a two-year training program for registered nurses but indicated no action would be taken on the proposal until more information was available and the budget had been reviewed.

Storms Batter Parts Of U. S.

CHICAGO (UPI) — Thunderstorm activity intensified over the Central Plains and Midwest today, sending heavy rains and damaging headwinds sweeping across the area.

The same storm last night stirred up cattle-killing tornadoes in Iowa thunderstorms reeling across the 14-state area from Texas to the Great Lakes.

At least 39 persons were injured in last night's tornadoes. There were 25 injured in Iowa, where eight communities were hit by twisters.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

Some restaurants call it a toss-up as to which is their busiest day of the year—Easter or Mother's Day—but by and large, mom gets the biggest family turnout. So any restaurant regularly open on Sunday is going to be amply supplied with customers. It also means that at many places reservations are advisable.

Without attempting to make a county-wide survey, we've heard these details from a number of Marin spots. Others were phoned in too late to publish.

THE CHATEAU reports it will serve breakfasts from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and swing into Mother's Day dinners at 1 p.m. Chateau's flowers for the ladies will be orchids this year. For the youngsters, there's a two-week-old baby deer in the yard.

NERO'S ROOM at Nave Lanes seems to be having some Ignacio highway trouble again, but don't let it deter you from going there. Follow the signs—or remember to turn off by the Standard station — or use the frontage road from Hamilton Field. Mother's Day brunch from 10 a.m. to noon; dinner from noon to 11 at night. Dancing Friday and Saturday to Pat Kelly's group.

AT PEACOCK GAP, dinner will be served from 3 to 9 p.m. Special on the menu is Sonoma goose and other delectibles. Children's dinners will be specially priced. You can entertain mother earlier in the day for brunch from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

RAMONA'S is opening earlier on Sundays beginning this week—2 p.m. instead of 4:30 p.m. Flowers for the mothers and a special combination plate this day, and the music of Juan y Maria will be featured.

SABELLA'S starts its Mother's Day dinners from 1 p.m. based on several years experience. (Last year they served more than 1,000 mothers here).

LE CHALET BASQUE will be open from noon to 9 p.m. Special menu for the day.

LA PETITE AUBERGE will offer Sunday's dinner from 4 p.m. The regular menu will be served here.

AT PANDORA RESTAURANT there's a bare possibility that new parking arrangements will be ready. Jim Pias and Reno Bosco will use the roof of the building below them (San Anselmo Auto Sales). It will hold 40 or 50 cars comfortably. A retaining wall for the ramp is built; at my last look the fill was nearly completed.

JUST A THOUGHT—if it's a quiet weekend mom would like, you might try Inverness Lodge for a two-day stay. It now has a three-star rating in the 1964 Mobil Travel Guide. Reservations definitely on this.

NEW MANAGER at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant is Elbert (El) Smith. He was five years at the Mark Hopkins Hotel and has also been at Rickey's Hyatt House. Dominic's will be among those open Mother's Day.

FOR JESS FISHER out at Blackpoint Inn, this week marks completion of two years remodeling. If you don't think he has done wonders to this historical old roadhouse—you haven't been watching it carefully.

Most recent work completed here is the Parlor Room with its log-burning fireplace overlooking the pool area. Friday and Saturday nights, music and "singalongs" are featured.

Apropos of the swimming pool, it's likely many people have never known of its existence. It's open for general admission through the week. There are a patio and snackbar serving beer and sandwiches.

Blackpoint Inn is easier to find at night now that it's completely outlined in lights and visible as soon as you turn off the highway.

Banquets served for 15 to 65 people here. Food's good.

YOU COULD HARDLY CALL Travelers Inn a "sleeper," because too many people know about it. Jimmie Louie and his sons and associates have been serving food here for the last five years, and I don't know how long Vic Scherini and Al Barghotti did before that. And Jimmie et al were already known for their prior restaurant work at Joe's Village Patio in Corte Madera for about eight years.

So Travelers Inn and its hosts are not new — except maybe to some recent arrivals.

If between visits here I seem inclined simply to take their reputation for good food for granted, my wife's fondness for Chinese dishes tends to correct this neglect. She can go only so long before a return trip to Travelers (whose culinary output she regards as tops) heads our list of "musts." And from what we then do to the viands set before us, it would be hard to judge which of us ordered this visit.

Chinese family dinners follow the custom of being grouped under several flat prices per person (from $1.80 to $2.75) with added benefits as your group exceeds the minimum of two. And of course there are a la carte selections. (The rare Chinese dishes are available if ordered in advance). American lunches and dinners are also varied, reasonable and well prepared. Complete dinners from $1.65 to $3.35.

EDDIE PEABODY spent several days in Marin last week. He stayed at Rancho Rafael in Ignacio and visited a few other places — I believe Confucius was one of them. If he was sizing up opportunities for appearances, nothing came of it. Rancho Rafael has the Tino Granucci Combo in the Marinoma Room Friday and Saturday nights for dancing, and Confucius has its Tommy Tonga Polynesian group.

Speaking of Rancho Rafael, there's a notable improvement in the cuisine since the advent of Don Giovannoni to the food department. If dinners measure up to the quality of the lunches (and that sepculation is hardly necessary)—both Don and the Rancho should have it made. Complete dinners are determined by a la carte prices plus $1—which gives a wide range to choose from. Beef's good.

Come to think of it, any state legislature is a lot like a fruit cake—it wouldn't be complete without a few nuts in it.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Thirsty Fair-Goers Can Relax: Rift Ends

A two-week dispute over the location of a fresh fruit juice stand at the Marin Art and Garden Fair in July has been settled.

The Soroptimist Club of Marin will have its stand at a compromise location, opposite the art exhibit, Mrs. Marcelle B. McCoy, fair manager, reported yesterday.

The compromise was reached by Mrs. Natalie J. Holly, president of the Soroptimist Club and Mrs. McCoy, after the dispute was aired before county supervisors Tuesday.

The deadlock arose when the fair management gave the Soroptimists a new location for its stand, and the club fought to regain its former location.

Completes Course

Frank E. Elliott, Navy interior communications technician third class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis K. Elliott of 50 Sonoma Street, San Rafael, has completed the six month operational training course at the Naval Nuclear Power Training Unit, Windsor, Conn.

Variance Appeal

Request for a variance permitting a three-inch soil and vent system in a single family dwelling of George Quesada at Balmoral Way and Argyle Street, Inverness, will be considered by the Marin County Board of Appeals at 2 p.m. next Wednesday in room 413 of the Civic Center.

SOMETHING NEW IN AIRCRAFT? — This looks like a new type of plane, with fins top and bottom. But it isn't, really—it's two F-105s of the Air Force Thunderbirds, flying in close formation with one upside-down. The famed stunt team will perform Sunday afternoon at Hamilton Air Force Base as part of the base Armed Forces Day program.

Spanish Club Helping Sick Mexican Children

Deposit points have been set up in Terra Linda, Santa Venetia, Loma Verde and Marinwood, according to club president Bob Hamilton. The drive will last until next Friday.

School Registration

Pre-registration for first graders will be held May 20 between 2 and 4 p.m. at Bolinas School, Peter M. Auer, superintendent-principal said today. All children residing in the district who will be six years old on or before Dec. 2 should be registered, he said.

Employment Office Places More Jobs

The San Rafael office of the State Department of Employment placed 90 more persons in jobs last month than in March and paid about 55 fewer unemployment insurance benefit claims for the same period.

The increase in job placements was related to seasonal employment opportunities. The decrease in unemployment insurance benefit claims from an average of 1010 per week in March to 955 per week during April was attributed to more construction work progressing in the area because of favorable weather conditions.

Student Officer Petitions Are Due

Petitions for student body officer candidates at the College of Marin are due in counselor John Gillin's office at 3 p.m. Monday.

ARMED FORCES DAY

A.F. Thunderbirds To Fly 1,200-MPH Aerial Ballet

"An aerial ballet at 1,200 miles an hour" has been used to describe the famous Air Force Thunderbirds, who will perform at 3 p.m. Sunday at Hamilton Air Force Base for Armed Forces Day.

This precision drill team flies F-105s in a preplanned sequence of loops, rolls, whifferdills, corkscrew changeovers and cloverleaf turns at 1,000 feet in full view of the audience. The climax of the act is the famous "bomb burst," in which the planes in a diamond formation climb vertically in front of the audience and break away to the four points of the compass.

The gates at Hamilton will be open to the public at 9:30 a.m. Air police will direct traffic to the parking areas.

During the morning there will be religious services in both chapels on the base.

Flightline activities will start at noon. There will be stationary displays of the latest operational aircraft of the Air Force, Navy, and Marine Corps. Military equipment from all the services will be on display.

Other activities include a performance of the Hamilton "Flying Rifles," nationally known novelty and precision drill team.

The 28th Air Division Band will give a concert. There will be demonstration jumps by Air Force rescue personnel from a C-123 "Provider."

A military style show will be presented by women of the Armed Forces.

Fly-bys and take-offs of various military aircraft will go on all afternoon.

Chrysanthemum Unit Talk Slated Monday

Melvin Beskeen, superintendent of Jack London Square Park in Oakland, will speak on cultivation of chrysanthemums at a public meeting of the Chrysanthemum Society of Marin at 8 p.m. next Monday at Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Anselmo.

Plans for a plant sale to be held May 23 at Montecito Shopping Center in San Rafael will be discussed.

Happiness Is A New Road Sign

LAKE HELEN, Fla. (AP)—A new crossroads sign pointing to Interstate Highway 4 is helping Lake Helen folk catch up on their sleep.

Residents of the area, southwest of Daytona Beach, complained to officials that motorists were waking them up at all hours to ask directions to I-4.

ALL ASLEEP AT STARTING GATE

Philip Ohlson, 10, came from Manhattan Beach to visit his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Arms of 105 Mount Lyell Drive, San Rafael, and the family went to Stinson Beach. There, Philip got the idea that if people race horses, pigeons, dogs and even frogs—why not race the scuttling little sandcrabs? After much digging, Phil and his cousins captured three fleet specimens, lined them up on his arm and hollered, "Ready, set go!" But nothing happened—sandcrabs sans sand are no more agile than fish out of water. Now, Phil's looking for some speedy snails to race. (Photo by John Arms)

Burglaries, Mischief Plague Sheriff Aides

Five burglaries, including loss of $1,200 in clothing, jewelry and guns, and an incident of malicious mischief in a new home were reported today by Marin County sheriff's officers.

John W. Steele, advertising illustrator of 415 Crown Road, Kent Woodlands, told deputies a living room window was broken out and the clothing and jewelry taken.

He said he had been fishing and the break-in occurred between April 29 and yesterday.

Deputies said the home of John A. McQuown, 774 Marin Drive, Tamalpais Valley, was also entered and a pistol and rifle taken from the master bedroom yesterday. The home was unlocked.

Donald O. Stutsman, director of the Housing Authority of Marin County, told officers a side window of the Marin City building containing administration offices was broken early today but nothing was believed to be missing.

A new house at 1094 California Avenue West, Mill Valley, owned by John Broman of 272 Buena Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, was entered by burglars within the past few weeks, he told deputies yesterday, and a $250 power saw taken from the laundry room.

Brice Brothers Market on Drake Avenue in Marin City was entered by beraking a front door window with a rock about 2:15 a.m. today, officers said. The break sounded a burglar alarm, but Donald Dalpino, assistant store manager, said he believes about 20 bottles of liquor were taken off a shelf before the intruders fled. A neighbor reported the ringing alarm.

Ben Rosenthal, 21 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, reported yesterday a new $47,000 house at 20 Reed Ranch Road, Reedlands, was entered—probably by juveniles — and a kitchen faucet turned on to flood the structure.

Damage, not immediately determined, is covered by insurance, according to the report. Rosenthal said the house was built for sale.

Housing Task Force Names Are Selected

Dr. Richard S. Hahn, chairman of the housing task force for the Marin County Human Rights Commission, last night presented the names of persons he has selected to serve on the task force.

Mrs. Iniece Bailey resigned as head of the education task force, saying she felt she was too involved, both emotionally and organizationally, in the issue to be able to deal with it objectively. No new appointment was made.

The housing task force members named were Judge Joseph G. Wilson, Dr. Granville C. Coggs, Joe H. Stewart, Bryce W. Anderson, Donald O. Stutts-Howell and Sydney H. Wilman, Marion H. Marks, Perry Iiams.

Named to assist in gathering information were M. Justin Herman, Felix M. Warburg, Lawrence Livingston Jr., Lawrence Halprin, Margaret Azevedo, Edward Eichler, Edward Howden, William A. Marcus, Frank J. Quinn, Byron W. Leydecker, and Ernest N. Kettenhofen.

FIRST SCOUT-O-RAMA CUSTOMER

Taxpayer Picks Up $541,464 Tab For Southeast Asia Culture Trip

By EDWARD W. O'BRIEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—This is the saga of a recent tour of Southeast Asia by Jose Limon and his modern dance troupe. They were sent there by the United States Government at a cost of $541,464 in order to display American culture.

The tale was published a few days ago in the form of a transcript of a house appropriations subcommittee hearing, when state department official Glenn G. Wolfe was answering questions from Rep. John J. Rooney (D-N.Y.) about the department's cultural exchange program.

Wolfe was saying that the dance tour had been "extremely effective." In Kuala Lumpur, for example, 18,000 people turned out for the performance. The transcript, slightly condensed, went on:

Rooney: How much did the spectators pay?

Wolfe: They paid nothing because it was in the open square.

Rooney: I imagine even a fellow doing an Irish jig would attract an audience if he was doing it without cost to the people looking at it.

Wolfe: Hardly 18,000 sir.

Rooney: According to your figures, senor Jose Limon and his company performed between Aug. 29 and Dec. 12 before a total audience of 85,118.

Wolfe: That's right, sir.

Rooney: And the cost to the taxpayers was $541,464?

Wolfe: That's right, sir.

Rooney: Why, this would be at a cost of $6.30 a seat to see Jose Limon.

Wolfe: I assume your arithmetic is correct; Yes, sir.

Rooney: How can the American taxpayer afford such things as this?

Wolfe: The total program falls under that same question, sir.

Rooney: So it cost $6.30 each to get them there?

Wolfe: That is perfectly right. If we look at this program in this way, we look at the entire program in this way.

Rooney: How much was Jose Limon getting a week out of this?

Wolfe: $1,500 a week.

Rooney: And we still have to buy him drinks at the ambassadorial receptions?

Wolfe: I happen to know he does not drink.

Rooney: What did he have, tea?

Wolfe: Soft drinks. It is the personal contact with local people that is of great value as well as the performance, and I say in this Jose Limon is one of the finest.

Rooney: What were the total receipts from that tour?

Rooney: You got $3,300 back out of how much?

Wolfe: $541,100.

Rooney: That is pretty good, is it?

Wolfe: No. sir.

Rep. Frank T. Bow (R-Ohio): Is this Jose Limon group a company that is together all the time?

Wolfe: For the most part, Yes.

Bow: Yet we had to pay $13,000 for costumes.

Wolfe: The costumes must be replenished, because in an arduous tour of this type they definitely wear them out.

Bow: Then there is $15,558 for rehearsals.

Wolfe: Specific dances or ballets were fitted into this tour. They had not been touring the very ballets we preferred to send abroad.

Wolfe: Yes.

Bow: With a weekly salary of $500?

Wolfe: Including his royalty.

Rooney: Who is Pauline Limon, assistant manager?

Wolfe: Pauline Limon? Well, that is Mrs. Limon.

Rooney: Jose himself got $1,500 a week and you gave him $250 a week more to bring his wife along?

Wolfe: No. She has, throughout the existence of this dance group, carried on a very important function.

Rooney: So he and his wife got $1,750 a week. Right?

Wolfe: That is right, sir.

Noisy Harvard Crowd Broken Up

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A noisy crowd, most of them apparently students, blocked traffic, defied Harvard officials and police, but finally broke up today after police brought four police dogs in to chase the crowd off.

The size of the crowd was variously estimated at 1,000 to 4,000, many of them students at Harvard and Radcliffe colleges.

The spring fever uproar was principally along Memorial Drive, which borders the Charles River on one side and a number of Harvard dormitory buildings on the other.

'Mayor Art' Helping Collect Reed Funds

Each show will last one hour and there will be games and audience participation. Admission will be charged.

Turkish, Greek Cypriots Shell Each Other

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI)—Two villages occupied by enemy Greek and Turkish Cypriots shelled each other until dawn today despite efforts of the United Nations peace force to stop the firing.

U.N. officials said Greek Cypriots in the village of Lymbia, southeast of Nicosia, used a Greek Orthodox Church as a gun post to fire down on the Turkish Cypriot village of Louroufina.

At least one Turkish Cypriot was reported injured during the night of shooting.

The reasons for the exchange were not clear, but the Greek Cypriots claimed the Turkish Cypriots were holding Green Cypriots as hostages at Louroufina.

Agriculture Budget Reshuffling Ordered

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Agricultural Department appropriation of $5,182,665,000, reduced $1,059,632,215 from last year's level, was approved today by the House appropriations committee.

Sending the bill to the House, the committee directed the department to reshuffle some of its spending plans, continuing a number of research stations and programs that had been scheduled for elimination or reduction.

It told the department to balance the cost by cutting down on work for the Agency for International Development's programs.

The committee included three million dollars for research on tobacco and insecticides, directing that it begin immediately.

Its report said the eight billion-dollar tobacco industry is deeply affected by findings linking smoking with cancer and other diseases and it is vital "to determine the properties of tobacco which may affect the health of smokers and to develop means to eliminate any harmful substance found."

Publicity about pesticides, which the report said was "not always based on complete and objective information" and that sometimes presents 'a completely one-sided point of view" has needlessly frightened consumers and damaged the interests of farmers and manufacturers, the committee said.

The committee also suggested that provision be made for "payment of financial losses to any producer, processor or manufacturer" resulting from government agencies' statements about pesticides, "where there is no evidence that their use endangers the public health."

Mosk Rules On Car Salesman

SACRAMENTO (AP) — If you accept money for referring prospects to an automobile dealer you become a vehicle salesman and must be licensed as such by the state.

That was the ruling of Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk today in response to a question of Tom Bright, state motor vehicles director, about "referral selling" schemes.

"Were a different conclusion to be reached, vehicle dealers would thereby acquire a means of circumventing the law relating to the employment of vehicle salesmen, and the intended protection of the public would be frustrated," the attorney general said in an opinion.

Tiburon District Looks Over Budget

The Tiburon fire protection district commission last night adopted a preliminary budget for fiscal year 1964-65 of $97,140. The tax rate will be approximately 66 cents per $100 assesesd valuation as it was this year, according to fire chief Frank J. Buscher.

This year's budget was for $101,340. The final budget meeting will be June 4.

The commission authorized purchased of shrubs for landscaping the front of the firehouse for $60.

SAIGON (UPI)—The brother of the late deposed President Ngo Dinh Diem will be executed by a firing squad tomorrow despite a mercy appeal by U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, the government announced today. The announcement said the brother, Ngo Dinh Can, will be shot at Saigon's Chia Hoa Prison.

Algerians Buy Johnson's Old Home—But Get No Key

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Algeria now has possession of the former home of President Lyndon B. Johnson here — but not the key.

An Algerian Embassy spokesman said today a deal was completed yesterday for purchase of "The Elms," the mansion-like home where Johnson lived before he moved into the White House. Algeria bought it as a residence for Ambassador Cherif Guellal.

But when the title was transferred from Miami millionaire Luther B. Smith, who bought it from the Johnsons only a few weeks ago, to the Algerian government someone forgot to pass along the key to the 12-room, French chateau-style house.

The Algerian embassy staff is expected to get the key later today and make arrangements during the weekend for Guellal, who has been living in a hotel, to move in immediately.

The purchase price was not disclosed.

The home is in a fashionable neighborhood called Spring Valley. The Johnsons lived there for more than two years after purchasing the home from famed party-giver Perle Mesta.

Some people think it never needs service.

It's easy to get that impression.

How many other makes have been driven 60,000 miles with the original pistons and cylinders intact? How many ordinarily get 40,000 miles on the same tires?

That doesn't mean the Volkswagen never needs service. It does.

To get the most out of it, have your VW serviced regularly. We call it preventive maintenance. We'll give you a book on preventive maintenance for the first 30,000 miles you drive. And every 30,000 miles after that.

In the book for new VWs, for instance, coupons start you off with two free maintenance services. One at 300 miles. One at 3,000 miles. After that, the coupons remind you to bring your VW in for specified services at regular intervals. It's the best way to keep your VW in top shape.

Service is so important that Volkswagen won't sell cars where they can't be properly handled. By factory-trained mechanics. Like ours.

Parts are economical and quickly installed.

There isn't a Volkswagen made that you can't get parts for easily. Most are interchangeable from year to year. (You can have a 1963 fender put on your '58 model with 10 bolts. It fits perfectly.)

We pride ourselves on this fact: Our service is as good as the car. Ask anybody.

Senate Approves Unruh Education Finance Reforms

Upper House Puts On Show As Bill Is Voted 28-To-7

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A packed audience of parents and teachers was treated to an unusual sight as the Senate approved the session's only major school finance reform bill.

Members of the upper house turned on all their showmanship yesterday as they voted 28-7 to pass the measure by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh (D-Los Angeles).

But some of the audience received a tongue-lashing as the California Teachers Assn. was termed "irresponsible" and "arrogant" during the hour-long debate.

The Unruh bill, considerably watered down from its original mandatory unification form, came up unexpectedly after the Senate had approved its 3.66-billion-dollar version of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's budget.

Sen. George Miller Jr. (D-Martinez) said he was afraid postponing action would turn the school finance issue into a stumbling block when the budget reaches a conference committee.

The measure, with its mandatory features yanked by the Senate education committee, now returns to the Assembly for concurrence in upper house amendments.

But the lower house is expected to reject it, leaving its final shape up to the conference committee.

The standing-room-only audience, almost entirely women delegates to a P-TA convention, listened in fascination as Miller opened by saying lawmakers always end a session:

"Sadly surveying wrecked hopes and watered-down reforms."

But as Unruh listened nearby, he called the Unruh bill "an important advance in educational legislation," commenting that "it is strange that in no area is progress more difficult and precarious than in education."

As passed by the upper house, the bill gives the schools up to 108 million dollars additional state aid over the next two years, including a possible 67-million-dollar bonus for unified districts the second year, and sets limits on class size.

Schools would get a $10 per pupil increase in the 1964-65 fiscal year, at a 41-million-dollar cost to the state.

Only unified districts would be eligible to get an additional $15 per pupil the second year. Miller said both provisions would result in "a considerable amount of unification."

In addition, the bill would not grant state aid for any more than 33 students in a class in the first three grades.

Miller said this provision, put in by the Senate finance committee, will encourage reduction of class sizes."

There are also voting reforms to let a simple majority of voters approve unification proposals.

Most of the jammed audience were part of a 2,000-member delegation to the annual convention of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers.

They also formed long lines outside the doors as Miller blasted the teacher association for trying to put an initiative on the November ballot that would appropriate 200 million dollars in state aid for the schools without saying where the money is to come from or how it is to be spent.

Sen. Randolph Collier (D-Yreka) the presiding officer, repeatedly banged his gavel for order, and announced at one point that the state fire marshal had ordered no more visitors admitted to the chamber, and the doors were locked.

Miller said the CTA can no longer "fool the electorate."

"I don't think there's any organization that in its zeal, perhaps even in its arrogance, should attempt to take the responsibility when their only program is more money, more money, regardless."

Senate Passes Budget —But Mainly Gesture

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A sudden flurry of action pointed straight at the negotiating table today to settle the legislature's dispute over the state budget.

Nothing, however, will happen until at least Monday. That's when both houses return from another of their three-day weekends.

Before shutting down yesterday, the Senate broke with tradition and approved its 3.66-billion-dollar budget bill, 37-0, ahead of the Assembly. The vote was mainly a gesture.

The Senate used a parliamentary device to hold the bill there until the Assembly settles its partisan dispute that has blocked the state's spending program for weeks.

Democrats control the house, 50-28, but they haven't been able to rustle up the 54 votes needed to enact the budget. Republicans have demanded 45 million dollars in cuts.

The representatives from the two parties met for over an hour yesterday to explore the items in contention. The chief argument is over welfare spending.

Both sides agreed to submit reports to their respective caucuses Monday.

Youth Asks Jail In Drunk Case

A 21-year-old San Rafael youth, who had money for his Marin Municipal Court traffic fine, instead requested yesterday that he be jailed.

Dale Allan Woodall, 344 DuBois Street, told Judge Leonard A. Thomas he would rather serve time in Marin County jail and make use of the work furlough privilege than pay $166 fine for drunken driving.

Through his attorney, Berwyn A. Rice, Woodall indicated the jail sentence might "make him come out a better man." Rice also said Woodall told him he was "through" paying lawyer fees. The youth has a long record of minor traffic violations.

He was arrested on the drunken driving charge by California Highway Patrol last Nov. 8 on Broadview Drive, San Rafael.

Also fined $166 yesterday for drunken driving was Robert Vitaliano, 38, San Francisco. He was arrested by the pathrol on Highway 101 May 1.

Prisoner Gets Off In Stabbing

Lawrence Scott Garrett, San Quentin Prison inmate who defended himself on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon in the Christmas Day stabbing of another prisoner, was acquitted yesterday after five hours deliberation by a Marin Superior Court jury.

Garrett allegedly stabbed Thomas R. Counts, 33, in the back with a foot-long metal rod while they were in the prison's upper recreation yard Dec. 25, 1963.

The trial was heard in Judge N. Charles Brusatori's court.

Physical Education Regulation May End

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A requirement that all students in every grade of California schools have a physical education period each day of the week may be on the way out.

The State Board of Education, at a meeting in San Francisco next Thursday and Friday will consider the emphasis now placed on physical education at a time when there is little time for many other subjects.

Members of the board have been particularly critical of the requirement of the full period each day at the high school level, with most of it used for games rather than for systematic exercises that could be carried over into adult life.

At the San Francisco meeting, the board's 11-member fact-finding committee will make a report containing tentative standards for physical performance examinations as part of the statewide testing program.

The statewide testing program has been limited to intelligence and the three basic skill areas, but the 1963 legislature called for addition of physical performance tests. However, the results of the physical tests would be reported only to local boards and not to the state, as in the case of the results of the other areas.

The board also will consider regulations to make certain exemptions from requirements that foreign language be taught to all students in grades six through eight. The exemptions would pertain to pupils who are mentally retarded, whose native tongue is a foreign language and who are not proficient in English, who need remedial reading, and who have been found to be unable to benefit by foreign language instruction.

Auto Spins Into Fence, Creek Bed

Two youths were injured last night when the car in which they were riding crashed through a fence and into a creek bed 100 yards north of the northbound on-ramp from Belle Avenue, San Rafael, to Highway 101 at 10:30 p.m.

Gary David Lyle Currie, 21, of 1364 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital with face cuts and an injured right wrist. His cousin, Darrel F. Thompson, 21, of Travis Air Force Base was treated for chest pains at San Rafael General Hospital and transferred to Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital.

The car spun when the driver, Currie, accelerated too quickly, according to the California Highway Patrol. Currie was cited for unsafe speed.

Rapid Transit Remains Only Ultimate Solution

The Golden Gate Bridge is destined to become the worst sort of traffic bottleneck, during commute hours, within the next few years.

If a decision were made today as to what kind of second crossing should be constructed to carry vehicular traffic between Marin and San Francisco, it would be so long in building that the situation on the Golden Gate Bridge still would become critical before the opening of a new crossing.

Since a crossing is going to be needed, it behooves us then to face up to the situation and make a decision. Shall we have a second bridge, say, from the tip of the Tiburon peninsula to San Francisco? Shall we put a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge? Shall we attempt some sort of tunnel under the bay?

Trouble with all of these is that they assume commuting can continue to be mainly by private auto. In time a new crossing will be jammed with traffic too. And the jams in downtown San Francisco, already intolerable at certain hours and in certain places, will become infinitely worse.

Whenever one wrestles with this problem, he comes back to a simple choice: Can we halt immigration to Marin by some sort of discrimination against newcomers? Or can we come up with a rapid transit system that moves masses of people quickly and efficiently with very little need for vast land areas which freeways require?

Since the first is unrealistic, we are left with rapid transit as the only ultimate solution. If this sounds like it's been said often before, it's because it has. There seems to be no other way out.

It was a pity, perhaps a greater setback than we can now fully comprehend, when Marin had to be dropped from the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. We are being left out of the planning and construction of the rapid transite system now beginning to take shape to move masses of people swiftly back and forth between San Francisco and the suburbs.

Earlier this week, we cited the possibility of rails over the Richmond-San Rafael bridge, which could conceivably link Marin with the transit system via the East Bay.

Later in the week, a Sacramento dispatch told of the passage by both Senate and Assembly of Assemblyman Bagley's bill to form a Marin County Transit District with a stated provision for ultimately combining the Marin District with the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

This would keep the rapid transit concept alive in Marin and presumably be the vehicle for eventual reuniting with Bay Area District.

We hope the governor signs this bill. (He vetoed a similar one after the last session of the legislature, giving reasons we could never fully understand.)

We hope that subsequently the people of Marin vote the district into being and provide it with whatever funds may be needed to perform necessary functions.

It is a far cry from rapid transit now, but at least something will be done instead of ignoring what must be the ultimate solution.

Rhododendrons And Azaleas

Rhododendrons and azaleas are quite closely related—so much so that botanists have trouble saying where one ends and the other begins.

Rhododendrons range in size from the tiny, squat plants of the Swiss Alps to the 12-foot-tall shrubs of the semi-tropical Himalayas. They are also native to the Northern California coast and are blooming wild in the woods around Mendocino this time of year.

Azaleas are native to China and Japan where they have been cultivated for centuries. Both plants thrive here in cool Marin and are blooming now.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Who Will Get New Judgeship —Man Next In Line Or Demo?

By WAT TAKESHITA

TAKESHITA

A NEW JUDGESHIP will open up in Marin Superior Court by the end of this year.

Normally the ranking member of the municipal court bench would be expected to move into the superior court post. But in Marin, the situation gets complicated.

The senior member of Marin Municipal Court and the logical person to be promoted is Judge Harold J. Haley. However, he is a good Republican.

And a good Democrat like Gov. Pat Brown would naturally prefer a man of his own party. The other two municipal court judges are Democrats — Judge Leonard A. Thomas and Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

But if the governor picks Thomas or Wilson, he would be by-passing seniority.

THAT'S WHERE attorney Samuel W. Gardiner comes in. He's a prominent Democrat, and a veteran San Rafael lawyer, who has been interested in a judgeship for years. Then why wouldn't the governor move Judge Haley up to superior court and appoint Gardiner to municipal court?

Trouble is, Gardiner probably wouldn't relish the idea of being tied down to municipal court to preside over traffic and drunk cases. He's had his sights on the superior court or higher appellate courts in San Francisco.

SO OUR GUESS is that the governor is seriously considering Gardiner for the superior court judgeship, along with Judge Haley.

This year's election campaign also brings the governor and attorney Gardiner a little closer together, although they may not have seen eye to eye on some matters in the past. The governor has gone out on the limb to plug Alan Cranston for U. S. Senate. Sam Gardiner is Marin campaign chairman for Cranston.

Add to this the fact that Gardiner led the Marin campaign for Brown in 1958, and you've got to admit that Gardiner's chances for the superior court judgeship aren't too bad.

WE SEE WHERE Bill Fusselman did make a public talk.

As you know, the veteran supervisor has consistently declined invitations to appear at candidates' nights or other open forums. But last week he gave a rare talk—before an eighth-grade class at a Kentfield elementary school.

Wonder if his challengers (for supervisor in the Second District) are going to demand equal time?

Wants Aid For Starving Deer

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Can anything be done to take care of our starving deer?

I've lived in my home 50 years and have been visited by deer now and then but never before have so many dined in my garden as this year.

They've been coming in droves, five, six or more at a time, chewing everything edible within their reach.

It means that their feeding grounds have been bulldozed away so rapidly that there isn't enough food for them and they certainly can't live very long on a few rose tips, etc.

Not only are they starving but they are a menace to their own lives and the lives of all auto drivers who use Baywood Court, Alder Court and the busy Lansdale thoroughfare, as the deer run up and down our streets in quest for food in other gardens as well as mine.

To whom should I report this matter? The Humane Society? The game warden, or does Marin County have an organization that looks after the welfare of our wild life?

West Marin Plan Record Set Straight

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Last week there was a forum of candidates for supervisor of the Fourth District. One of the candidates present, after extolling his virtues and superior education, asked a question, instead of being informed sufficiently to provide the information as a candidate should. The question, as to when the master plan would be completed, was preceded by a statement that the county had spent $45,000 for the master plan. Since I believe the public should be given facts instead of innuendoes and misleading statements, the record will verify the following:

1. This master plan has been provided under a program of federal assistance to local planning needs, and is authorized by Section 701 of the Housing Act of 1954 as amended (Public Laws, 83rd Congress).

2. The State Department of Finance of the State of California administers these 701 programs in California for the federal government. This authority is found in Chapter 1641, Statutes of 1959.

3. The total cost of this planning project is $44,860, two-thirds of which is paid by the federal government. The remaining one-third must be supported by the County of Marin, and in this instance calls for a payment to the State Department of Finance of $9,953.33, and for use of personnel within the planning department in an amount equivalent to $5,000.

On April 30, the contracting firm delivered one copy of the West Marin Master Plan to the county, and one copy to the State Department of Finance.

Considerable time will be required for the necessary editing and reproduction of some 200 pages of narrative plus maps. Public hearings then must be held to give property owners in West Marin an opportunity to express their views and make recommendations for changes. After these hearings the planning commission must meet to consider the plan; then the planning staff will finalize it and it will be sent to the board of supervisors for final approval.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

You are certainly to be commended for your "Marin County Boating Section" in your Saturday, May 2, issue. No other newspaper in the Bay Area gives the boating coverage as well as you do.

We would appreciate it if you would keep our name in mind for an advertisement in the future should you run another Boating Section.

Again, congratulations for a job well done.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

MRS. RICHQUICK had the parson in for a spot of tea, and graciously extended a pudgy hand in his direction. "I wonder," she purred, "if you noticed the new diamond ring my husband gave me for Valentine's Day." "I certainly did," the parson assured her. "I saw it when you put that nickel in the collection plate."

BRONKO NAGURSKI, charter member of the new pro football Hall of Fame, lives in International Falls, Minn., which boasts with good reason that it is the coldest spot in the country. Its record low is 56 degrees below zero, and last winter there were 30 consecutive days when the temperature never got above 10 below! "We don't have summer," laments Nagurski. "We just have a short spell in the middle of the year when the sledding is poor."

When Naguski was piling up yardage as fullback of the Chicago Bears, the New York Giants, after years of frustration, found a way of handling him. A first tackler upended him, a second slowed him down, and a third pinned him—sometimes.

ALISTAIR COOK made a brave effort to stop a knockdown brawl in a nudist colony recently. He interrupted a broadcast he was taping to step between two incensed belligerents and implore, "Gentlemen, gentlemen! Keep your shirts off!"

Reason For Prague Riots Clear —Communist Regime Is A Mess

WASHINGTON — No wonder about 3,000 Czech students rioted in Prague on May Day.

Czechoslovakia's Communist regime is a mess. The economy is coming apart at the seams and the pressures and frustrations have become irresistible.

After 16 years, during which the Communist Party has had total control to plan and operate the machinery of government at will, the nation has reached a state of unrelieved squalor.

May 1 is a day when the lovers of Marx are supposed to cheer. But the Czechs weren't cheering.

FAR FROM IT. The regime was openly scorned. The police had to be summoned and the government is busy trying to pretend the riot didn't really happen.

The anti-Communist demonstration proved too big and too violent to be covered up. Whereupon the spokesmen for the regime tried to cover up its cause. They claimed that the demonstrators didn't really mean it, that it was all due to a small band of "hoodlums."

Don't you believe it. A massive group of students from Prague's Charles University and various high schools had gathered for the traditional May Day singing and poetry readings. But the police came to break it up. When the riot squad took out their truncheons and led their police dogs into the crowd, the singing turned to chanting and the chantings were ominous: "Long Live Freedom" and "Down With the Gestapo."

WHAT'S THE TROUBLE? That's the question and that is what the Communists are trying to play down by dismissing the riot as a minor hoodlum disturbance.

The trouble is that the Czech Communist regime is in dire straits.

This is no overstatement. This is not wishful, anti-Communist propaganda put out by some Czech refugee group. This is the careful and considering finding of a correspondent for the Reporter magazine, George Bailey, whose knowledge of the Slavic languages and his love for Slavic cultures won him trust and candor from the many people he talked with in a recent trip throughout Czechoslovakia.

THEY WANTED the story told. They wanted the world to know. Bailey tells it so well and so thoroughly in the May 7 issue of the Reporter that no one can doubt the truth.

"Sixteen years after the great experiment of Communist planning began," writes Bailey, "all are agreed that it has resulted in an almost unqualified failure."

In many ways this is a more disastrous failure than in Red China or in East Germany. The reason is that the Communist experiment began in Czechoslovakia under the best and most promising circumstances, not under the worst and least promising circumstances.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA was an ideal laboratory in which to prove whether communism was the way to organize society and operate the economy. It had one of the most skilled labor forces of any industrial nation in the world. Despite the war, its productive plant was in good condition.

Communism has turned it all into a colossal mess.

The Czech regime, embracing the Soviet version of the Common Market for Eastern Europe, pumped up the manufacture of machines, tools and finished products on the assurance that its agricultural allies would produce much of the food. They have not. And today Czechoslovakia's economy is grinding to a halt—and the food isn't forthcoming.

Unneeded plants are working part-time producing unwanted products which are piling up in storehouses because they can't be sold. Corrective measures are creating even greater distortions. A crash agricultural housing program has failed by 95 per cent.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Assassination Story Sought From Johnson

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

This has been discussed at several commission meetings, and it was decided to leave the matter up to the president.

That will be "informally" conveyed to him by Chief Justice Earl Warren, head of the seven-member commission named by the president to make an exhaustive inquiry into the slaying of President John F. Kennedy.

IT IS ASSUMED by commission members that whatever the president has to say will be in the form of a prepared statement.

However, should he prefer to testify in person, this would be arranged as he desired—at either a public or private session. But that is deemed most unlikely.

White House insiders have indicated the president has written a detailed account of what he saw and experienced last Nov. 22. Whether it will be made available to the commission is not known. The investigators are hopeful it will be submitted to them.

THE PRESIDENT was riding two cars behind the late president and Gov. John Connally when they were shot by a hidden rifleman. At the first firing, a Secret Service man thrust Johnson to the floor of his car and covered him with his body until he reached the hospital.

Anything the president does give the commission will be published in its final report.

This is in keeping with the policy agreed on by the investigators at the start — to publish all information and documents they receive. Of course, an exception could be made for the president if he requests it.

AFTER MONTHS of intensive probing, including thousands of pages of testimony from scores of witnesses and the examination of hundreds of documents and reports of all kinds, the commission is still trying to get at the bottom of two key matters:

1. Lee Harvey Oswald's activities and contacts during the three years he lived in Russia, and his marriage to a Russian whom he apparently had no difficulty bringing to the U. S. The State Department has produced little enlightening information, and seems to be dragging its feet in responding to the commission's prodding.

2. Certain gaps in the security surrounding President Kennedy on his fatal Dallas visit. For example: Why Oswald, with a known Marxist record, was not taken into "protective custody" as were others deemed potentially dangerous. The Dallas police, FBI, CIA and other security agencies had detailed files on Oswald's Marxist activities and background, yet nothing was done about him in the protective arrangements.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Increase Housing For Elderly, And More Elderly Might Move To Marin

IN SPITE OF all the election-year enthusiasm for the old folks at home in Marin County, governmental officials are not going to push too hard to promote major increases in housing for the elderly.

They will not push for more good housing because they feel the effect would be to bring more old people into the county, and that some of these old people are going to get sick, and it is going to cost the Marin County taxpayer money to take care of them.

AT A RECENT meeting on housing for the elderly, one man said he was moving out of Marin because there were no trailer parks (they are now called mobile home parks) in the county.

One county supervisor chuckled that the man had provided a good reason against allowing any such developments in Marin. Mobile home parks apparently attract problems.

Much as the taxpayers' association might not like it, there would probably be more support for low-cost housing, in the form of public housing projects, with federal financing, than for moderate-cost housing. Low-cost housing, if not too much is built, would be filled by people already living in Marin.

MANY OF THESE people are now receiving welfare aid, and the county extra subvention for rents, necessary because rents are higher in Marin, could be cut.

But other developments could attract newcomers. There was once a day when children were required by law to take care of their parents, if they became poor or ill. But that day is past, for all intents and purposes.

Therefore, when the fixed income of a pension or Social Security no longer pays increased expenses, or when illness strikes, the old person becomes a welfare recipient. The big jump in next year's county welfare budget is for the elderly.

RICHARD PHENIX, who heads the Marin Council for Community Services Program on the Elderly in Marin, has predicted that in the future people will be expected to retire at 45, not 65 as at present. And, he adds, these same people will live longer, on fixed incomes.

The fight the country's senior citizens face is a tough one, partly because no one will openly say he wants to keep old people out of the county.

But the real solution seems to be to prove that old people are actually needed in Marin County. They must show they have something to offer, not that they deserve to be helped because of what they have offered in the past.

THE SENIOR CITIZENS do have much to offer. They have experience and free time to participate in community activities. Many are actually quite active, and could be working hard in volunteer programs, or in small businesses, bringing tax revenue to the county.

Many suburban areas, especially large subdivisions, have become unusually homogeneous, with all adults of about the same age. Just having older people living nearby may be a benefit to a community.

At the meeting on housing, speaker after speaker referred to the housing problems of the elderly in the same phrases used to describe similar problems for Negroes. The implication was that the elderly are becoming a large minority group in the country, who must fight for their "rights."

But there will probably be more help from younger voters if the senior citizens sell their abilities and qualities.

ART BUCHWALD

Pearl Buck Is Trying To Help Children Fathered By Yanks

WASHINGTON — One of the results of sending American troops all over the world is the rise in the birth rate of little half-Americans fathered by the American GIs. No one wishes to take any responsibility for these children, just as very few people will even admit they exist.

Pearl Buck, one of our greatest living authors, has been concerned about the problem for some time, and has started a foundation to take care of some of these children, particularly in Korea, where our troops have contributed so generously to the population explosion.

Miss Buck was in Washington whipping up some interest for her foundation.

"I HAVE DISCOVERED my cause is not a popular one," she told us. "The American mother won't believe her son would have an affair. The veterans' organizations are shocked that I would even raise the question, and the American military are completely defensive about it. 'How could our boys do such a thing,' the military say, 'when they were playing volley ball all the time?'

"I have tried to point out that the only other possible way for the children to arrive would be by stork, but unfortunately there are no storks in the Far East."

Miss Buck said she has a solution to the problem that wouldn't embarrass anyone. She has started "Fathers Anonymous," which will make it possible for a father of a half-American to contribute some money without anyone knowing about it.

"I AM SURE," she said, "that there are quite a few men in this country who are conscience-stricken and would like to do something about it, if it wouldn't get them in trouble. Fathers Anonymous is the perfect answer.

"If any GI or ex-GI can remember an occasion during his service years that could have resulted in a baby's being born nine months later, then he is eligible to join Fathers Anonymous.

"All I am asking is that in grateful memory of that evening he send a cash contribution to my foundation. The beauty of my organization is that there will be no questions asked, no names required, and no follow-up on the contribution. The money sent can be considered conscience money. I am certain there are many veterans who would like to ease the burden of their guilt if they could. As Sophie Tucker said recently, 'Okay, everyone had a wonderful time. Now let's clean up the mess.'"

WE ASKED Miss Buck why she felt the American GI had fathered so many Oriental babies.

"I think it was a language problem. A GI couldn't speak the young lady's language and the lady couldn't speak the GI's language, so they had nothing much else to do."

"How much conscience money do you think someone should send in?"

"PERHAPS ENLISTED men could send in $5—junior officers $10 and senior officers $20. If they sent in cash to me at Perkasie, Pa., without a return address, there is no possible way of their being found out.

"Miss Buck," we said, "how would someone be sure he should join Fathers Anonymous?"

"I can think of one test," she replied. "If the person's hands are shaking while he reads your article, you can be sure he has a reason to be a member of the club."

Business Upturn Passes Milestone

WASHINGTON — The present business upturn has just passed a milestone.

After 38 months, it is now the longest continuous peacetime expansion the nation has ever known. It tops the previous record-holder, the rise of 1945-48, which got its thrust from the demands and savings pent up during World War II.

Things have rarely been better for most families and businesses. But the very longevity of the rise, and the gains it has brought, are generating scattered doubts as how long the good times can last.

It's a truism among economists that every expansion contains the seeds of its own end and the next recession. Another truism states that the forces that brings the turn-around aren't always obvious beforehand. But this may be the time the old rules don't hold.

Classically, an expansion tops out because prosperity has led businessmen and consumers to overdo. Businessmen erect too much new plant and pile up too much inventory on too much borrowed money. And they tend to get careless about costs.

Builders put up too many houses, stores and office buildings. Consumers go too deeply into debt to pay for homes, autos, appliances, and other goods. Prices begin to rise as labor and industry take advantage of booming demand to try for a bigger share of the pie.

Then the day of reckoning comes. Retail sales slow down or slip as families pause to work off debt. Goods on the shelf of in the warehouses seem excessive. So new orders decline. Factories scale back production just when all that new plant is ready to roll. Profits start to fall.

The result is a leveling off in business activity, if not an actual recession. But with population and the number of workers growing, a slowdown has serious consequences: Unemployment starts to climb.

It is hard to find many excesses in the current business picture. Businessmen are expanding plant cautiously, keeping pace with growing demand. They are holding their inventories low relative to sales, and they are still riding herd on costs. So profits are still rising.

Consumers are slowly stepping up their buying, beginning to use their tax-cut money. The unions and the big corporations have been showing statesmanlike restraint on wage and price increases—so far.

There is one major sector of potential trouble—real estate. In some areas, too many apartments and to much office space have been built. Some slowdown in this type of work is considered likely. But building of industrial plants, private homes, and public works still has a long way to go.

The odds, therefore, seem strongly to favor continuation of the present upturn for many months to come, through the end of 1964 and into 1965. What happens then depends heavily on the pace of the upturn in the months ahead.

Record Quarter

SAN JOSE—FMC Corp. has reported record first quarter highs in both gross and net income for the three month period ended March 31. Gross income was 202.1 million dollars compared with 110.9 million dollars for the corresponding quarter of 1963. Net income amounted to 9.5 million dollars, or 65 cents per share versus 4.8 million dollars or 33 cents per share a year ago.

Dividend Declared

SAN FRANCISCO — The board of directors of Kern County Land Co. has declared a second quarterly regular dividend of 60 cents per share on outstanding stock payable June 5 to share owners of record on May 18. The action brought declarations in 1964 to $1.20. The company paid $2.40 per share in 1963.

Unemployment High Despite Rise Of Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—More jobs are opening up as the economy expands. But the percentage of those in the labor force that can't find work stays stubbornly high.

Some years back an unemployment rate of 4 per cent of the labor force was considered too much. Now government officials are happy when they can report it's under 5.5 per cent. Somewhat wistfully they talk of chances of getting it below 5 per cent maybe by next year.

CAN'T FIND WORK

The labor force is the total at any one time of those with jobs or looking for them. The unemployment rate is the percentage of this total that reports it wants to work but can't find a job.

The number of those with jobs keeps rising. It's now above 70 million, 1.8 million more than a year ago.

But the labor force keeps rising just as fast or faster.

Part of this is due to the much discussed population explosion—the fact that now, and in the next few years, increasing numbers of young people will be reaching the job-holding or job-seeking age.

MORE PROSPERITY

But in recent months a growing prosperity has increased the labor force from another source. Attractive jobs are opening up now and luring those who aren't interested at other times.

Modern home appliances have made it possible for more married women to handle both housework and outside jobs.

Also complicating any assessment of the nation's labor picture is a growing amount of moonlighting in recent years.

Buys Bond Issue

SAN FRANCISCO—Bank of America has purchased the $1,295,000 municipal improvement bond issue of the City of Woodland in Yolo County. Bank of America paid a premium of $859 for a combination of 5, 3, 3.10, 3.20, 3¼, and 3.30 per cent bonds. Net interest cost to the district was 3.26 per cent.

Seven Marin Cities Have Retail Sale Gain

Gains in taxable retail sales in the last quarter of 1963, as compared with the same period the preceding year, were chalked up by seven of eight cities in Marin for which figures were reported today by the State Board of Equalization.

Biggest percentage gain — a whopping 77.64 per cent—was in Larkspur, largely reflecting the shot in the arm to Larkspur trade from opening of the Value World one-stop shop center. Larkspur taxable retail sales in the closing quarter of '63 totaled $1,629,000. They amounted to only $917,000 in the same quarter of '62.

At the other end of the scale was San Anselmo, which showed a 5.5 per cent drop from the preceding year—only one of the seven cities reported which failed to record a trade increase. San Anselmo's total for the quarter was $2,132,000.

Second greatest percentage gain was in Novato, up 28.2 per cent over the preceding year's final quarter with $3,282,000 sales. Next came Fairfax with a 15.59 per cent gain to a total of $1,305,000.

San Rafael had the highest sales—$22,376,000, a gain of 14.67 per cent over the year before. Other cities: Mill Valley $4,553,000 — up 14.02 per cent; Corte Madera $3,965,000 —up 11.41 per cent; Sausalito $2,281,000—up 4.49 per cent; San Anselmo $2,132,000 — down 5.5 per cent. Marin's unincorporated area with $5,245,000 retail sales showed a 6.87 per cent gain over 1962.

No figures were reported for Ross and Belvedere.

Total retail taxable sales for the county amounted to $46,932,000—13.98 per cent higher than the fourth quarter of 1962.

Heaviest sales in any category were by new motor vehicle dealers—both in San Rafael and county-wide, with gains of 18.6 and 19.7 per cent respectively.

Largest percentage gains in the county were credited to boat dealers with 78.7 per cent. Heaviest gains in San Rafael were in the category of lumber and building materials (with gains of 59.5 per cent) which is usually in first place for this city. In county-wide sales it was in fifth place with a 31-per-cent increase.

Other county leaders: Limited price variety merchandise —up 42.2 per cent; florists—up 36.8 per cent; office, store and school supplies up 31.8 per cent.

Jewelry dropped 21.3 per cent; photo equipment and musical instruments were down 8.3 per cent, and drug store sales were off two-tenths of 1 per cent.

Other San Rafael percentage leaders were: Boat dealers—up 53.3 per cent; office, store and school supplies—up 36.1 per cent; stationery and books 32.8 per cent. Downward trends were shown in jewelry (37 per cent), photo equipment and musical instruments—24.7 per cent, limited price variety merchandise — 8.6 per cent, and by service stations—2.2 per cent.

PG&E Doubling Its Capacity At Novato Station

Pacific Gas Electric Co. is doubling the electric capacity of its Novato substation to serve future growth in northern Marin County.

George M. Henderson, PG&E Marin District manager, said company construction crews are installing a second substation unit that will step down electricity from 60,000 to 12,000 volts. Two additional 12,000-volt outlets will be added. Rearrangement of the power lines will permit removal of two power poles on Sweetser Avenue.

The new unit will receive its supply from one of two 60,000-volt transmission lines entering the substation, which is at Sweetser and Machin Avenues.

The project, including line work, will cost an estimated $108,000. Completion is scheduled for this fall, Henderson said.

Stock Reporting System Unveiled

NEW YORK — An all electronic stock market reporting system which provides a broker with total market information for the first time has been introduced by Ultronic Systems Corp.

Less costly, more compact, the modern "marketmaster" instantaneously transmits financial information heretofore unavailable on boards currently in use, said Robert S. Sinn, president of Ultronic Systems.

Kaiser Predictions

New York's Highest Court Rules Schools Race Balance

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — New York's highest court has ruled that school districts may actively seek racial balance in public school enrollments.

The Court of Appeals, in a 6-1 decision handed down yesterday, held that in drawing attendance lines for a new school racial factors could be considered.

Racial imbalance in schools resulting from housing patterns has become the center of bitter controversy in many of the state's cities.

The court stated it had not considered the question of whether school districts were required to attempt to eliminate racial imbalance. It defined the issue as: May, not must, the schools correct racial imbalance?

A spokesman for the State Education Department said the question of how the decision would be applied probably would be the subject of a long series of lawsuits.

'U.N. Delegates' Judged Near Top

University of California announced yesterday that Terra Linda High School's two delegations to the model United Nations sessions in Berkeley have been judged second and third best in Northern California.

The two were placed in the top 10 at the time of the sessions in February, but no placement was announced. The delegations are made up of members of the school's Forensic club.

Second place went to the delegation representing India, and third went to the delegation representing Jamaica.

Hoffa Fraud Trial Jury Is Sworn In

CHICAGO (UPI)—A jury was sworn in in the James R. Hoffa 20-million-dollar fraud trial after two weeks of painstaking selection today and testimony was expected to begin Monday.

The opposing sides agreed on a jury of eight men and four women hardly an hour after the government had used up the last of its 18 preemptory challenges. The defense used its last premptory challenge—by which a prospective juror can be dismissed without stating a cause—yesterday.

Four alternate jurors must still be selected before the opening statements of a trial which is expected to last through the spring and much of the summer. The speed with which the last four jurors were selected, however, indicated there would be little difficulty in sitting the alternates.

Juvenile Hall Eating Cost Under Study

Marin County Auditor Michael Mitchell said today his department is making a detailed audit of the costs of food services at the Marin County Juvenile Hall.

He told the county board of supervisors Tuesday that the county was paying $12,600 a year to feed staff members at the hall, and said there was no formal authorization for feeding these persons, although many of them eat with the detainees and help maintain order.

Probation Officer Walter H. Busher yesterday said total costs would not be more than $5,600 a year. Mitchell today said he was counting all indirect costs in his estimate, including such things as laundry of cook's uniforms, utilities and kitchen supplies.

Chamber Rules Out Action On Building

The chamber, according to President Kenneth Anderson, discussed putting Christmas decorations up again on the 60-foot Redwood tree opposite the Lark Theater.

Giants Fire Marichal, Hendley, Sanford At Dodgers

The Los Angeles Dodgers could be putting their hopes for a second straight National League pennant on the line tonight when they open a three-game series against the Giants at Candlestick Park.

Although the season is just three weeks old, the Dodgers already trail the Giants by six games.

A three-game sweep by San Francisco would knock Los Angeles nine games off the pace—perhaps too far back to catch up in a league as evenly balanced as the senior circuit. Conversely, a sweep by the Dodgers would put them back into the thick of the run for the flag.

Juan Marichal, possessor of a 4-0 record this year and 10-game winning streak over two seasons, will oppose the Dodgers' fireballing young Phil Ortega, 1-1, in the series opener.

Manager Alvin Dark has nominated left-hander Bob Hendley to pitch tomorrow and Jack Sanford to start Sunday for the Giants. Los Angeles will counter with its ace one-two punch of Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale.

The Giants took two of three games from the Dodgers when the two old rivals met last week in Chavez Ravine.

A difference in the upcoming series could be the appearance of Koufax, forced to sit out the weekend games by arm trouble. Sandy, who numbered a no-hitter against the Giants among his 25 victories last year, showed his arm is back in shape by striking out 13 Chicago batters in the Dodgers' 2-1, 10-inning victory over the Cubs Monday night.

Dark, who has worried about his team's lack of hitting despite the club's 13-5 record, was all smiles after the Giants outlasted the Cubs 7-6 in a wild and woolly affair yesterday.

Willie Mays smashed three of the safeties and raised his league-leading average to an astronomical .479. Rookie Jesus Alou also slammed three hits while Tom Haller and Jose Pagan got two each.

Holler's second single, a shot down the right field line off Cubs relief ace Lindy McDaniel, drove home two runners and provided the margin of victory.

Right-hander Bob Shaw came on in the ninth and after giving up two straight singles, retired the next three men to record his fourth save of the season. He's also won three.

Giant-Dodger Series The Best; They'll Draw 120,000 This Week

CONNOLLY

If by any chance you've been figuring on making a little wager that the Giants-Dodgers series isn't the greaest in sports, take my tip and call it off.

There is nothing like it anywhere; not even the Yankees have such a rivalry, competitively or attendance-wise.

Last year in their 18 games the teams drew 821,348. Last week in three games at L.A. the same teams played to 158,372. The three-game series starting tonight at Candlestick Park should do around 120,000.

In this second meeting of the two teams the pattern for 1964 should be set. All the top pitchers will be on the job. The Dodgers are expected to pitch Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale and Johnny Podres. The Giants will go with Juan Marichal, Jack Sanford and either Bob Bolin or Bob Hendley. Marichal has won 10 straight games; four this year. The Dodgers are last team to beat him and that was last August.

Thus far the Giant record doesn't stand too much inspection. They've been winning, but the club hasn't been hitting. Willie Mays, pitcher Bob Shaw and Opportunism have done the job. The club has battled hard but they've looked unimpressive.

When Duke Snider was acquired it was solely for pinch hitting purposes. But on account of the injury to Orlando Cepeda causing Willie McCovey to be shifted to first base, the Duke has been compelled to play the outfield as a regular. And it "ain't good." He's a pinch hitter, not a regular. But on account of Cepeda being hurt, the Duke had to take over a fly chaser's job. And he isn't fast enough to do the job nearly as well as Matty Alou. So let's face it. Duke is a pinch hitter and one of the best. So Alvin had better play him according to the book.

McCOVEY NEEDS a rest and badly. His bum leg has been annoying him and he doesn't like first base but he's stuck in there gamely and should be sidelined.

Del Crandall's lack of hitting and his slowness make him a natural double play victim. I'm for hiding him and using Tom Haller, whose throwing arm has been off color and over whom some concern is felt. If Tom can't throw, he still offers a strong bat threat and a fast man on the bases.

Next week the Giants must reduce to 25 players. Catcher Barton is one sure to go but it's hazard to guess the other two. Ken MacKenzie looks like an eligible and the Giants may sell one of their pitchers and maybe an outfielder. They still owe the N.Y. Mets a player and it could be that Matty Alou may be shuffled off to the Big City.

LEFTHANDERS bother the Dodgers and the Giants are short-handed in that commodity.

Billy O'Dell and Bob Hendley are not yet ready and Billy Pierce is only good for relief jobs.

Willie Davis of the Dodgers is one reason I wish we had a couple of lefties ready to pitch. Southpaw pitchers bother him but he's been hitting the right-handers high, wide and handsome.

The biggest hard luck turn so far for the Giants is the injury to Cepeda. With the club not hitting we need Orlando in the batting order.

Willie Mays' month of May hitting is the best he's ever had. He hasn't been like it since he was at Minneapolis when he hit .477 in 1951 for 35 games. For a few fleeting moments on Wednesday Willie was .477.

I DIDN'T like the Dodgers last week. They've got to make their move pretty soon, and this three game series starting tonight could be very tough for the Giants who are not hitting.

I'm interested in watching Tommy Davis, twice the leading hitter for the Dodgers. He's wearing glasses and I have an idea he has trouble seeing the ball. He's been a grand hitter and this slump may be just a temporary one, but if he doesn't snap out of it, the Dodgers will be under pressure all year.

One advantage the Dodgers have over the Giants is speed. Maury Willis, Willie Davis, Ron Fairly and Jim Gilliam are fliers. They keep the pressure on unless you can stop them from hitting the ball. They are real trouble, once they reach first base.

The Giants are considered a scrambly-ambly troupe with Willie Mays and Jesus Alou faster than average. But there are altogether too many glue-footed regulars on the squad to scare any club about base running.

Woe In L. A. As Champs Fall Again

OUT — OOPS, SAFE! — Sliding Giant Willie McCovey was called out, then safe on this fifth inning play yesterday after Cub third baseman Ron Santo dropped the ball. Calling the play is Umpire Paul Pryor. (AP Wirephoto)

Podres-To-Colts Rumor Is Denied

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Are officials of the Los Angeles Dodgers beginning to be concerned with the sputtering start made by the defending world champions?

That seemed to be the big question today following two developments still another loss by the weak-hitting Dodgers, 2-1 to the Houston Colts last night, and a trade report involving pitcher Johnny Podres.

Denied by the Dodgers, the report stated flatly that Colt officials had been offered Podres, who in his only appearance on April 25 was struck in the elbow by a Warren Spahn pitch and has been on the mound for only two innings this season.

"I know nothing whatsoever about it," said Dodger General Manager Buzzie Bavasi. "I haven't talked to anyone on the Houston club. There's absolutely nothing to it."

The loss to the Colts was the 13th in 22 games for the Dodgers and left them six games behind the National League leading San Francisco Giants. The Dodgers are in front of only the Colts and New York Mets.

In all, the Dodgers have scored only 73 runs and hit only 14 homers — eight by Frank Howard. Maury Wills, who collected four hits against the Colts for a .309 batting average, is the only regular hitting over .300. The team is batting .235, eighth in the league.

While the Dodgers were battling their problems, Tom Haller's two-run single in the eighth gave San Francisco a 7-6 edge over the Chicabo Cubs, Clay Dalraymple's two-run homer started Philadelphia on the way to a 9-6 victory over Milwaukee, St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 4-2 and the New York Mets nipped Cincinnati 3-2.

In the American League, Cleveland walloped Baltimore 9-4, Minnesota crushed the Los Angeles Angels 9-1, Boston whipped Detroit 7-3 and the New York Yankees downed Washington 9-6. Kansas City and the Chicago White Sox were not scheduled.

WINNING RUN

The Colts scored in the fifth on a single by Walt Bond, a double by Jim Wynn and Bob Aspromonte's sacrifice fly. Winning pitcher Bob Bruce led off the sixth with a single and came around with the clincher on a sacrifice and Al Spangler's single.

Dalrymple, hitless in 22 previous trips to the plate, hammered his homer off Hank Fischer following a single by John Herrnstein, snapping a 2-2 tie. The Phillies took it from there. Herrnstein had a double and two singles for the night. Art Mahaffey, tagged for homers by Joe Torre and Eddie Mathews, needed Jack Baldschun's relief help before getting the victory.

PIRATES STOPPED

Roberto Clemente hit a two-run homer in the first inning, but Curt Simmons, now 3-2, and Roger Craig stopped the Pirates the rest of the way. The Cardinals scored all their runs in the fourth against Bob Veale.

Al Jackson evened his record at 3-3 by scattering nine Reds' hits. Tim Harkness' two-run first-inning homer off Jim Maloney, gave the Mets a lead they never lost. Charlie Smith scored for New York in the second and came across on a single by Al Moran. Johnny Edwards homered for the Reds.

MARIN PREP LEAGUE

Cinder Finals Tomorrow

Finals of the Marin Athletic League track and field competition for 1964 will dominate the local sports scene tomorrow with the county's finest high school runners, jumpers and throwers scheduled for a full afternoon's activities starting at noon at the San Rafael athletic field.

The Redwood Giants of Coach Tony Bailey, champions of the league's dual meet season and top honor grabbers in last week's trials, are prohibitive favorites to walk off with the Class A championship. They'll bring an army of 33 qualifiers to the finals, by far the strongest in numbers. Drake with 16 qualifiers is next, followed by Terra Linda (15), Tamalpais (14), San Rafael (13, Marin Catholic (8) and Novato (8).

Redwood's potent squad once again will be led by hurdler Tom Strathairn who set league records in both the high and low timber last week besides running a leg on the Giants' record-smashing relay team that also includes John Murk, Dave Auerbach and Bob Piro.

The 100-yard dash figures to be a great race with Piro, Auerbach and Guy Modica all qualifying for Redwood along with Drake whiz Dean Lazzarini, Tam's fleet Ellis Williams and San Rafael's Bob Olson who holds a share of the league's 9.9 seconds record. He set the standard last year and Lazzarini equalled it last week.

Eddie Perkins Is Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP) — Eddie Perkins of Chicago was named the "Fighter of the Month" by Ring Magazine yesterday for his impressive performance in retaining his world junior welterweight championship last month against challenger Bunny Grant of Kingston, Jamaica.

In the Ring Ratings, released at the same time by publisher Nat Fleischer, Eddie Machen, of Los Angeles, who is scheduled to fight former champion Floyd Patterson in July in Sweden, was moved up to fourth in the heavyweight class. Ernest Terrell of Philadelphia was dropped to fifth. They were the only changes in the class ruled by world champion Cassius Clay.

Two Racing Pigeons From County Win

Two racing pigeons owned by Walter Jarecki of Mill Valley won first and third place in the North Road Racing Pigeon Club's anunal races last week from Redding.

Birds of Leo Enright of Corte Madera and Dr. Robert Burke of San Rafael won second and third places, respectively, in the second race.

Marin Driver Eyes Hardtop Point Title

Starting from the north, Santa Rosa offers Win Beaver, Petaluma counters with Tony Brazil and San Rafael contributes Jack Dempsey — and either one could emerge as point champion.

The latter is probably the biggest threat most of the veteran hardtop drivers have come across in many a year. It's not unusual for a driver to capture a main event, but when he takes the first two of the season, as Dempsey had done at Antioch, then it's time to sit up and take notice.

Petaluma and Antioch run Saturday and Friday nights, respectively, and are on one point list. The winner is crowned champion of both tracks.

Dempsey already has the first two main events at Antioch and was at Petaluma last week when an early rain slicked up the track and sent the packed grandstands home.

He'll journey to Antioch tonight and will be on hand at Petaluma tomorrow when the qualifying round begins at 7 p.m. and the trophy dash begins the competitive races at 8 p.m.

Georgia Has Old News Traditions

ATLANTA (AP) — Georgians were among America's first newspapermen.

The Georgia Gazette was founded in 1763 at Savannah. And the Cherokee Phoenix, the world's first newspaper to be published by and for Indians, was established in 1828 at New Echota. It was printed in the Cherokee alphabet.

Georgia's oldest newspaper still being published, the Augusta Chronicle, first appeared in 1785.

Prolific Scorer Has Big Month

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Rich Hendrick, Bristow High basketball ace, found January a highly productive though somewhat frustrating month.

In four straight games, he tallied 51 or more points but still couldn't break the school record. On his sixth try he got 65, a new high at Bristow.

400 Terra Linda Boys Open 1964 Season Tomorrow

Terra Linda Atheletic Assn. will open its Boys Baseball season tomorrow with a parade, ceremonies and games at the new Vallecito Junior High School field.

Some 400 boys will ride in decorated cars in the parade, starting at the Terra Linda fire house and winding through the community to the school. There, Marin County Supervisor Byron Leydecker, San Rafael Mayor John McInnis and Dixie School District School Superintendent Dennie Wilils will participate in official ceremonies, followed by "Play Ball!"

The Boys Baseball program has three leagues for the ages of 9-10, 11-12 and 13-14.

Veteran Sports Announcer Dies

PALO ALTO (AP) — Veteran sportscaster Henry A. Weaver, semi-conscious since an auto accident last year in Los Angeles, is dead at 48.

Weaver, for 25 years an announcer with the American Broadcasting Co., died Wednesday in Veterans Hospital. Doctors said the cause was not immediately determined.

Weaver suffered a brain hemorrhage when his car struck a utility pole as he was leaving a boxing match at Dodger Stadium March 21, 1963. Boxing coverage was his specialty.

On the card that night was the Sugar Ramos-Davey Moore bout, in which Moore, the featherweight champion, suffered fatal head injuries.

Hachmyer, who on Tuesday played one-over-par golf in stiff winds, came back yesterday to fire a one-under par 35 on the par 36 Indian Valley course in Novato as he and his Hornets edged Tamalpais, 4 to 2.

The Texas-Oklahoma football game has played to sellout crowds 18 straight years.

Par Proves Tough In Colonial

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Gary Player, first-round leader of the $75,000 Colonial National Invitational Golf Tournament with a crisp two-under-par 68, says he will be happy with straight par from here on out.

"I'm not greedy," the slim little South African said with a grin. "I'll take three 70s."

The heavy wet weather which hampered many of the big names in yesterday's opening round was predicted again for today. Accurate driving, always important on the 7,122-yard Colonial, was especially vital because of the weather.

One stroke behind was scrappy Tommy Jacobs of Bermuda Dunes, Calif., who also played a near-perfect round off the tee.

Both Jacobs and Player were in the rough on only one drive, and they each took par on those holes.

They were the only two players in the 72-man field to shoot sub-par golf. The last time par proved so tough for an opening day was in the 1963 U.S. Open.

Grouped at par 70 were Gay Brewer of Dallas, Ray Floyd of St. Andrews, Ill., Al Besselink of Merchantville, N.J., and Jerry Edwards of Fort Worth.

This year's Colonial field is probably the strongest of any tournament this year. Of the current 50 leading money winners, 45 are competing for the top prize of $14,000.

Player, former PGA and Masters champion, is making only his eighth start on the 1964 professional tour. He finished second to Boros in the Colonial last year. Player is 13th on the official money list with $13,840.

BAY YACHTING

Small Keelers In Action This Week

All the action on the sailboat front this weekend will be furnished by the small keel boaters, racing under the aegis of the Small Yacht Racing Assn. and the little center boarders who abide by the rulings of the Small Boat Racing Assn.

The Small Yacht classes will confine their activities to a single regatta on Sunday over the Richardson Bay course with the Star class heading the parade at noon. All starts and finishes will be off the clubhouse of the sponsoring Sausalito Yacht Club. A starting fleet of 100-plus yachts is expected with the ever growing Rhodes 19 class dominating the field, numerically.

It will be a two-day hassle for the little fellers in the SBRA regatta which will be held on Lake Merritt, in Oakland. Divisions 3 and 4 will do battle tomorrow with the morning races starting at 10 and 11 a.m. On Sunday, Division 1 will cross the starting line at 10:00 a.m. and Division 2 will follow one hour later.

Tomorrow the power cruiser buffs will match wits in an official Northern California Power Cruiser Assn. over-the-bottom race, an annual event. This is not a boat-for-boat race but involves the skippers' skills in maintain at all time their previously declared speed over the bottom, in spite of wind, tide and current; the boat finishing with the least honor is the winner. The race will be held off the Golden Gate Y.C. with the first starter getting the signal at 11 a.m. and a course of 12.5 miles must be followed.

3 Games To Open Lucas Valley, Marinwood Season

The Farm League of the Marinwood-Lucas Valley Little League will open its season tomorrow with a triple-header at the Pony League field on Las Gallinas Avenue in Marinwood.

OSCAR FRALEY'S COLUMN

Independent-Journal Sports

Friday, May 8, 1964 19

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—There is and adage in sports that they never come back and the feeling in pro tennis is that Richard (Pancho) Gonzales will be the next man to enhance the legend.

Name your sport and you can find a champion who stayed away a while and, lured into a return, was only a mockery of his old self. Ben Hogan is an example on his infrequent tournament appearances and the ring is litered with them from John L. Sullivan to Joe Louis.

Now Pancho, once the scourge of the racquet world, is going to give it a shot after two and one-half years in limbo.

GONZALES WAS the pro net king from 1954 through 1961 and during three or four of those years earned close to $100,000 per in tournament play. He stepped down in October of 1961. But now, according to Jack Kramer, the "fringe benefits" of endorsements and television are proving too great a lure for him to stand idly on the sidelines.

So he's coming back on the pro tour which gets under way at Cleveland next Thursday night and continues at the University of Maryland May 19-24; White Plains, N.Y., May 26-31; Los Angeles, June 1-8; St. Louis, June 9-14; Monterey, Calif., June 17-21; Milwaukee, June 24-28, and Longwood, Mass., July 9-12.

Gonzales, however, has been working twice a day and weighs only 179 compared with the 185 he scaled during his last year on the pro tour. Meanwhile, in the past two years he has done a lot of coaching and teaching.

"But it's a question of hardening yourself mentally as well as physically," said Kramer, pointing out that Gonzales was beaten by Alex Olmedo rather easily in a four-set match last July in Pancho's lone pro match since 1961.

KRAMER KNOWS from experience.

"I remember when I was 36 and I signed Lew Hoad," he grimaced. "Dinny Pails left the tour and I went on with Hoad, Pancho Segura and Rosewall. I managed a 2-1 edge of Segura and beat Hoad, 13-12. But Rosewall beat me 20-5 in matches. I could handle his serve and volley but he simply wore me down."

Kramer, who is only temporarily fronting for the pro tour, says that he envisions the same thing happening to Gonzales.

"Since Gonzales retired, Rosewall has improved tremendously," added Kramer, who owns a 36-hole public golf course in Chino, Calif., as well as a tennis club. "He has become an extremely confident champion and would figure to wear Gonzales down.

"ANOTHER FACTOR," he continued, "is that Laver presents a new element. He's young and strong and, well, I just have my doubts that Gonzales can handle these two comparative kids."

What happens to the comeback attempt of the tall, rangy Gonzales should be of great interest to sports fans generally. Yet the odds are that the rust of time and inactivity have robbed him of the old razor's edge which makes a champion. It's been proved too often before.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Casting Into Wind Is Difficult, But Your Chances Will Improve

STEVENS

A prophet is not without honor—except when he is a piscatorial pundit and prognosticates probably production in a certain lake or stream. My honor suffered a dismal drop when I suggested a small like near Shingletown for the opening weekend for trout. A quartet took me literally and took me to task when they pulled blanks. They did fairly well early Saturday morning but failed to connect in the afternoon and were snowed out on Sunday.

The excuse they gave for the washout on Saturday afternoon and evening was that a stiff breeze sprang up. "I guess the fish all hit for the deeper water, so you can't be blamed," stated the spokesman, letting me off the hook, gently.

"Weren't any fish caught at all after the breeze came up?" I asked. "Not by any of us, but I think a few were taken at the other end of the lake," I was told, and that gave me the out I wanted.

"Look!" I asked, "When the breeze sprang up, was it at your back or in front of you?"

"AT OUR backs, naturally; we couldn't cast into that wind, could we?"

Yes, they could have cast into the wind, and they should have gathered up their gear and walked around that small lake to a point where the wind was in their faces. Oh, I know it's hard to cast a fly into a stiff breeze, but any time such a breeze comes up, the chances are ten to one that the trout population of that or any other lake or reservoir or even a wide stream, has "gone with the wind." The breeze has blown the natural bait the trout feed upon ahead of them. They follow it. It's as simple as that.

IF THERE is plenty of room I suggest making a side cast, keeping the fly or lure low. A high back cast with a fly makes for awkward casting in a wind. You understand I am speaking of a STIFF breeze. A light breeze that merely ruffles the surface makes no difference other than to increase your chances of catching fish. The roughing of the surface tends to hide everything but the fly or lure from the fish.

Pardon the preachment. Oldtimers know these things. I was speaking to the uninitiated.

HAD HOPED to pass along some better news anent salmon trolling as a result of learning that a number of boats were able to get out after them on Tuesday, but alas and alack, they all had to head back for the barn too early to give it a real effort. On Wednesday, I understand that very few, if any, boats left their respective harbors. We've got to wait out the wind. Ditto for local and back country striper striving, black bassing and crappie fishing. But, if you can find a sheltered spot in the delta region and are content to collect a string of catfish, chances are you will get enough of the smoothskins to feed the wife and kiddies. Might land a mess of flounders in the San Pablo if you can brave the elements. Sorry, no better news, but don't burn your tackle, better weather is bound to come.

THE SPACIOUS DECK around the upper level of the Merritt K. Ruddock home on the west side of Belvedere Island offers a sweeping view of the Golden Gate and Sausalito hills and bay. Here Mrs. John Lord King, left, wife of the architect, and Mrs. Francis Ingall preview the St. Stephens Guild house tour which on May 15 will include this spectacular home.

THE GAZEBO in the garden is the hallmark of another tour stop—the E. Coleman Dick home, also on Belvedere's west side. It too has wide vistas of the bay and hills and inside reflects the elegant taste of its decorator-designer owner. On a tour preview are Mesdames Russell Rice, Eugene Kilgore and Llewellyn White.

Belvedere Homes And Gardens On Tour

Marinites will have a chance to view six Belvedere homes and gardens selected with an eye toward the modern, traditional and the unusual in architecture and decoration next week when the St. Stephens Guild of Belvedere presents its 14th annual house tour.

A FLEET of station wagons will shuttle guests from Whitaker Hall at St. Stephen's Church on Bay View Avenue, Belvedere on May 15 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. to the six homes—those of Dr. Robert Sitkin, Merritt K. Ruddock, E. Coleman Dick, McKinley Bissinger and William Caddell, all on the island, and Miss Nancy Majors on the Belvedere Lagoon.

RETURNING TO Whitaker Hall guests will be served tea and coffee, announces the hospitality chairman, Mrs. John Malling, who will be assisted by Mrs. William Main.

MRS. RUDDOCK IS tour chairman and Mrs. G. M. Howard is liason for the guild and homes. Mesdames John Hoefer and Rod Taft have selected hostesses for the homes and Mrs. John J. Wiley is program design chairman. Mrs. Samuel Mercer is program chairman, and Mesdames Robert B. Bagnall and Gary Gast will staff the reception desk at Whitaker Hall. Mrs. George C. Stephens of Keil Cove, Tiburon and Mrs. Evan Pugh, 30 Cove Rd., Belvedere are reservations chairmen. Tickets will be available at the hall or homes on the tour day.

THE SITKIN home on the east side of the island is in the Victorian style, built in 1896, with four stories and garden with boat dock. Mrs. Sitkin and her father, architect Ward Cox, have designed restorations to preserve the original feeling of the house.

THE CONTRASTING modern house with wide expanses of glass and the natural woods against a wooded hillside is the Ruddock home, designed by John Lord King. The spacious entry hall of polished brick has a collection of paintings from Haiti. Ancient maps decorate the Philippine mahogany wall of the living room. Downstairs the bedroom patio leads to a walk through a pine garden to the pool far below.

THE COLEMAN DICK house is a bright setting for its elegant antiques, and the dining room has a fireplace, while the kitchen is unusual with its poultry prints. Downstairs a spacious den and guest room overlook the pool.

THE BISSINGERS' weekend and summer place shows the owners love of gardening and the house is built around this purpose with a simple air of relaxation. The garden is noted for its cutting flowers and flowering shrubs.

A GYM, SAUNA BATH and swimming pool for their three sons are features of the William Caddell's new home with its unusual stairwell with

THE LIVING ROOM of the Ruddock home is comfortable and inviting with its wide book-lined wall with fireplace on one side and opposite it a wholly glass wall offering vistas of Richardson Bay and the Marin hills. The owner, president of the World Affairs Council, often entertains foreign visitors in this comfortably spacious and informal home. Mrs. Ruddock is tour chairman.

Baseball Fans To Ride Ferry To Game At Candlestick Park

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

And away they'll go to Candlestick Park tomorrow. The people I'm referring to are those who will go to Candlestick Park tomorrow by ferry to see the Giants-Dodgers game. The cruise is sponsored by Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary. Baseball fans, 300 of them, will board the Harbor Queen at the Tiburon pier at 10:30 a.m. They are taking picnic lunches to eat on the boat. The ferry will land at Candlestick and the fans will walk to the stadium and come back either happy or sad, to the Harbor Queen for the return trip to Tiburon.

Mrs. Walter Zwieg, who will give a dinner at their Kent Woodlands home after the game, will have in her party aboard the ferry, her son, John, Eddie Brown and Brace Hayden, Redwood High School students, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, and their son, Harry, and Peggy Hayden. The Johnsons' son-in-law and daughter, the Samuel Hubbards of Monterey, will join them at Candlestick Park and spend the weekend with the Johnsons.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Milliken, their daughter, Mary, and her cousin, Chris Schoenfeld, will ride the ferry to Candlestick. Joining Judge and Mrs. Jordan L. Martinelli on the cruise will be the Leon Smiths. With Mr. and Mrs. Richard Newell will be Messrs. and Mesdames Frank Abbott and Peter Knowles. Mr. and Mrs. James Grey will board the ferry with the Doug Ballingers, George Fernbachers and Doug Conners and when they return from Candlestick they will have an evening of entertainment.

Judge and Mrs. Richard Sims, who are great baseball fans, will have a party of eight with them on the ferry. With Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pritchard will be the Arthur Lindauers and the Headley Browns. In the David Dorwards' party will be Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Stone, the Walter Meinbergers and James Barnetts. The Dorwards will be joined at Candlestick Park by the Ron Wilsons of Sunnyvale. With the George Schirmers will be the Robert Byards.

MARIN COUNTRY CLUB will open the Spring social season with a formal dinner dance at the clubhouse tomorrow night. Members and their guests will gather for a cocktail party before the 8:30 dinner. Dancing to the music of a combo will follow. Among those attending will be the Edward Burgars and their guests, Messrs. and Mesdames Ray Mariani and Bert Mollo.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Prudden will be Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Schirmer and Herbert Spencer of Oakland. Messrs. and Mesdames Don Curran and Dickson Buxton will dine together.

THE HAROLD SCHUTTES of Ross are giving a dinner party tomorrow night at the Olympic Club at Lakeside, which will be a combined farewell and bon voyage party for two couples. Honored will be General Mervyn M. Magee of Hamilton Air Force Base and his wife and Dr. and Mrs. Earle M. Young of Ross.

The Youngs leave Sunday for a tour of Europe, Africa and the Holy Land. They are flying to London, then to Cairo. They'll go to Jerusalem and travel through Israel, go back to Cairo, fly to Istanbul, take a cruise around the Greek Islands, go to Athens, and complete their tour with several days of sightseeing in Paris. While the Youngs are away, their son, E. Michael Young Jr., and his wife will stay at the Ross house. The junior Youngs, who have been living in San Rafael, are building a house in Sleepy Hollow and after Michael's parents return, he and his wife will move into their Sleepy Hollow house.

General Magee and Mrs. Magee leave the first of June for Colorado Springs where he has been transferred and they have bought a house. General Magee will be chief of staff of headquarters of the North American Air Defense Command and will be stationed at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Magee has been an active member of the Officers Wives Club at Hamilton and the club will honor her at a coffee hour Thursday morning. She has also been a volunteer at the thrift shop on the base and a Red Cross Grey Lady at the base hospital.

IN MILL VALLEY, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Gates of Berwyn, Ill., have been visiting their son, Robert A. Gates, and Gerald Winter.

MRS. ERIC BELLINGALL of the Belvedere Lagoon and her daughters, Christie and Leigh, had a visit from her mother, Mrs. John Burleigh of San Francisco last weekend. Mr. Bellingall was away on a three day fishing trip with longtime friends. They were aboard the cruiser of Bob Haumesser of Menlo Park.

Today is Friday, May 8, the 129th day of 1964 with 237 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1541, Hernando de Soto and a company of Spanish explorers discovered the Mississippi River near the present site of Memphis, Tenn.

In 1942, Vice President Henry Wallace coined a new phrase when he said: "The century on which we are now entering can be and must be the century of the common man."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey. Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Give Partner No Guesses If You Play Game To Win

People play bridge for different reasons. Some like the mental stimulation; others think their partners need the stimulation.

Opening lead — ♣ 3

West opened the three of clubs, and East won with the king. East returned the deuce of clubs, South finessed with the ten, and West won with the jack.

DROPPING QUEEN

West cashed the ace of clubs, dropping declarer's queen. West then led his last club, and East won with the eight.

The defenders had taken four tricks, and East could defeat the contract by leading a heart to the ace. East couldn't see his partner's ace, however, so he sat and thought for a while.

The discards didn't help him, since South had thrown two diamonds from dummy and one diamond from his own hand. Dummy's spades and hearts both looked pretty threatening.

RETURNS SPADE

East finally returned a spade, hoping to promote a trick if his partner had the king of spades. South promptly rattled off five diamonds and four spades, making the game and rubber.

West then rattled off his little speech about partners who couldn't guess the right suit even if the deck contained only one suit instead of four.

As you can see, East got his stimulation in more ways than one.

NO CHANCE

It's clear that West didn't play bridge for the purpose of winning. A player who wanted to win would give his partner no chance to guess wrong.

After taking the third club trick West knew that his partner held the only missing club. (If East had started with K-7-2 of clubs he would have returned the seven instead of the deuce.) A winning West would cash the ace of hearts before leading the fourth club.

Then East would have no guess and West would have no chance to deliver his little speech.

QUESTION

You hold:

♠ Q J 4 3
♥ K J 10 2
♦ J 10 5

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two hearts.

The hand is worth only one unforced response, and the raise of a major suit takes preference over bidding a new suit.

A HOUSE DESIGNED ESPECIALLY FOR WOMEN

A "CONTROL CENTER"
kitchen . . imagine being able to look out to the street, supervise children in the family room, oversee table setting in the dining room, watch the play in the back yard and have a look-see down the hall to bath and children's bedrooms . . . without ever stopping whatever you may be doing in the kitchen.

A "MUD ROOM."
It's the greatest home-cleaning invention since the vacuum sweeper. Kids (and their parents, too) enter the home through this convenient passage, and drop off dirty clothes, muddy shoes, etc. It's a great work saver for Mom.

ENTERTAINING AREA 38 FEET
when you want it. The entire living area of the house opens up by means of a folding wall. Or fold the wall into place and you have a formal living/dining room on one side with the children's family room enclosed to the rear.

CLOSETS . . .
WE'VE GOT 'EM. A hall closet for guests; a giant linen closet; and a real "Fibber McGee" for vacuums, brooms, extra table leaves, etc. There are built-in cabinets over the laundry area, too.

THE LORD AND LADY of this home have a most thoughtfully designed bathroom, with a private area for M'Lady's primping, and a completely separated shower for "singing" by M'Lord.

FLOOR TO CEILING HEIGHT
windows and doors. Elegant . . . and wonderful for ventilation, light, etc.

4-CAR GARAGE!
We did it. This 21x24-foot garage actually holds four cars. We have a photo in our sales office, reprinted from the I-J, to prove it. Maybe you don't have 4 cars . . . but imagine the storage space!!

MASTER TV . . .
It's wonderful. From a master TV antenna on a nearby hill, you will receive 5 Bay Area stations "like you were next door." Also fabulous FM reception. It's all wired into the house underground. No forest of antennas to block the view of surrounding tree-covered hills. Utilities are underground, too.

Freeway Threatens Wright House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Freeway construction is about to eliminate a unique example of American architecture even though a determined woman stands in the way.

A state condemnation suit has been filed against famed architect Frank Lloyd Wright's Pope house in nearby Falls Church, Va., and it may soon fall prey to bulldozers clearing the way for Interstate Highway 66.

(Wright designed the Marin County Civic Center.)

Mrs. Robert Leighey, present owner, has been leading a battle, now joined in by the government, to save the house from destruction.

"I'm not doing it for myself," she said recently, "but for architects, students, and people building their own homes. This is the kind of house that people can live in, rather than just exist in."

The house was built in the 1940s and is an example of Wright's "organic" architecture — a blending of a building with its surroundings that gave the project an unusual esthetic value.

Mrs. Leighey has shown the curious around the house for the past 17 years.

"Even couples with babies in their arms have come to see it," she said.

The curious and the interested continue to come by, spurred by the publicity the place has received.

Fins Farr, author of "Frank Lloyd Wright, A Biography," wrote of the house:

"It was widely believed in those days (the early 1940s) that only the rich could afford to employ the famous architect and Wright accepted every opportunity to destroy this legend. The Falls Church commission was therefore much to his liking. Loren Pope was a newspaperman who needed the help of his publisher in financing the moderate-sized house.

"Perhaps the outstanding quality of the Pope house is the certainty of the designer's touch. The unhesitating precision in the handling of line and mass is characteristic of all Wright's work."

The house seems to grow from the woods in which it stands. Its weather beaten cypress exterior blends and merges with the tree trunks around it. Rows of plate glass doors stretch from floor to ceiling, and where these meet at a corner, there is no corner support. The walls open out while the floor continues and becomes a terrace. The ceiling, projecting out into space, pulls the eye beyond the house to a tree, a few feet away, which seems to become the building's cornerpost.

Ribbons of small abstract clerestory windows decorate the walls, and the sun shining through them patterns the rooms with light. The patterns change as the sun moves across the sky.

An interplay of forms, planes and space gives the house an illusion of depth. From any one point in the living room, it is impossible to see all the walls. The house pulls and pushes your eye, inside the house and outside it, around the brick piers and cypress, creating a unity with the land it is on.

"I think you become a better person by living here," Mrs. Leighley said. "Little by little your pretensions fall away, and you become a more truthful, a more honest person."

The state has offered $24,000 for the house although it would cost an estimated $48,000 to replace and an estimated $52,000 to relocate. There is vacant land adjacent and parallel but the state refuses to consider moving the alignment of the highway, claiming its land acquisition had gone too far for that.

"That's ridiculous," Mrs. Leighey said. "All they have to do is put the land up for sale. Land in Falls Church is at a premium. The land would be gone almost as soon as it was put on the market.

"I had this dream that the National Park Service would buy up the land, the house, and the land the state has already bought for the highway, and make it into a park—an urban park — but the highway department won't budge."

Mrs. Leighey no longer has to carry on her fight alone. The National Park Service, the National Trust for Historic Preservation, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall and local newspapers have joined with her to preserve the house.

The Park Service, which is now convinced it cannot sway state highway officials to reroute their highway, has offerred to help move the house to one of its parks.

"The hunt is on for a site," a Department of Interior spokesman said, and Virginia has offered to pay "within reason," the relocation costs. The Federal Bureau of Public Roads is investigating the possibility of government financing, and assorted groups and individuals have offered their help.

"It is a measure of the blind, restless surge of modern society," Secretary Udall said in a speech in Chicago, "that today three of Frank Lloyd Wight's most distinguished creations — the Robie house in Chicago, the Pope house, and the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo — are threatened by the advance of 'progress.'

"The preservationist are winning few battles with the bulldozers these days, but I can report to you with satisfaction that action is under way in Washington which should result in the preservation of the Pope house."

"For the first time," Mrs. Leighey said, "I'm optimistic. If the highway can't be moved, the house will be moved and preserved for the future."

Verdict Of Innocent In Burglary Case

A Marin Superior Court jury deliberated only an hour yesterday to return a verdict of innocent in the burglary trial of Theodore Harry Katros, 29, of Southgate (Los Angeles County).

Katros was charged with breaking into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Norwitt at 2 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, last June 15. Reported stolen by the Norwitts were more than $8,000 in furs and jewelry.

Peking Blasts Moscow Red Conference Plan

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China today denounced Moscow's proposal for an international conference of Communist parties this fall as part of a plot "to accelerate an open split in the international Communist movement."

A Peking broadcast said such a meeting is not likely within the next four or five years "or even longer."

VAN DELLEN

Cancer of the breast continues to kill 25,000 annually. It is the leading cause of death among women between 40 and 60. What is the solution to this problem? Self-examination of the breast once a month and consulting the family physician when an abnormality is found.

Self-examination is ideal for women who are tumor conscious. The more alert find these lesions sooner. The woman who is not breast conscious may fail to feel a tumor until it is six to 12 months old. Further delay may follow, especially by those who are jittery or believe all cancers are incurable.

OTHERS DISLIKE running to the physician with every little ailment, including a small breast tumor. The sensible seek treatment at once because the chance of complete recovery is good if the growth has not spread beyond the breast.

X-ray (mammography) also has been suggested as a method of detecting the condition, especially in stout women. Time will tell whether this procedure can be adapted to mass cancer detection.

REMOVAL IS the best treatment. The breast and glands in the armpit are dissected away when microscopic examination reveals a malignancy. X-ray therapy may be given over the area to eliminate any stray cells that might have been missed. Various drugs, hormones, and chemicals slow the growth of the tumor and prolong life, even in advanced cancer.

A relationship exists between female sex hormones (estrogen) and breast cancer; they encourage multiplication of the cancer cells. When these hormones no longer are secreted, improvement occurs. Removal of ovaries, adrenal glands, and the pituitary at the base of the brain is recommended occasionally. Now and then testosterone is given to neutralize the effects of estrogen.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

POISON IVY OUTBREAK

S. M. C. writes: Poison ivy got me last year. We soon will be going to the cottage again to open up for spring. Is there a protective injection I could take beforehand?

REPLY

Various protective salves and vaccines are available. But they are not as effective as eradicating poison ivy with a weed killer early in the season.

A POSER

D. K. writes: What is meant by "high medication"?

REPLY

I don't know unless it refers to the cost or to medicine placed high on the shelf.

SWEETS AND PALPITATION

R. C. writes: What causes my heart to start thumping when I eat candy? The doctor says it's my nerves but I wonder if I am allergic to sweets.

REPLY

I have to agree with your physician on this question because he has had more experience than you have on problems of this nature.

WASHINGTON—No one can see or feel the ghostly rays of radium. But periodically—and almost accidentally — people are stumbling across long-abandoned caches of the dangerous radioactive substance.

Like a spectre from the past, radium just doesn't die or fade away. Indeed, it beams rays for hundreds of years.

That's how youngsters literally picked up a "hot potato" recently in the form of boxes discarded in an old Holbrook, Long Island barn. Before anyone knew it five children were playing store with 12 "radium emanators," outlawed 30 years ago as quack medical devices.

Coincidentally, health authorities uncovered radium in a house occupied years ago by a physics professor at Lansdowne, Pa. Since then nine persons have lived in the house, which showed radiation levels 50 to 100 times the average level of background radiation.

Both cases typify the "ghost" radiation problem. The stuff was squirreled away for its money value or just discarded outright. Detection may take years, and then maybe only by chance. One of the Long Island youths, for example, took one of the radium emanators to his school science class. A county radiation inspector on a routine visit to the school luckily recognized the danger.

Nobody can say for sure just how widespread is the danger of hidden radium. The U.S. Public Health Service has compiled a list of 300 cases of "lost radium." In the current "public health reports," John C. Villforth, who was dispatched from Washington to Pennsylvania to help with the decontamination Lansdowne pob, says nation Lansdowne job, says are not uncommon."

Since the discovery of radium, some 2,000 grams have been imported into the United States from Canada and the Belgian Congo. The U.S. has mined little of its own. However, the experts today can account for only 300 to 700 grams being used in legitimate medicine and industry.

The rest has probably been used in glowing dials, electron tubes, junked as radioactive waste, lost as the result of improper handling, or stored in attics or safe deposit boxes, says Villforth, who is with the division of radiological health here.

Several years ago, Seattle bank officials' eyes popped when they opened a letter from one of the state's top radiologists. Twice in the same year, he had come across data showing that people had inherited radium and were storing it in safety-deposit boxes.

In one instance the radium had been emitting its rays there since 1915. It was removed from the vault and stored in a hospital safe while the owner decided what to do with it.

The radiologist advised the Seattle banking fraternity to run a check on other vaults. They did and found none. However, the likelihood of hidden radium is higher in banks in older communities.

Not too long ago when a therapy clinic closed in Baltimore after 50 years, city health officials observed that employees had been tracking radium dust from room to room. Clinicians were improperly storing and disposing of the dangerous material, the officials said.

"It was impossible to quantitate the employees' integrated exposure due to the lack of any personnel radiation monitoring or survey information," they reported.

Doctors found at least some radiation injury in six of 10 employees examined.

Several years ago Pittsburgh health authorities had to decontaminate a large building after they learned persons had been processing radium on several floors.

During the 1920s and 1930s, public health officials here say, many small-business entrepreneurs processed radium in their basements and attics. How much of this is still around is anybody's guess. But the incident in Lansdowne, is being held up as a classic example.

The lessons learned there by state and U.S. health officials in detecting, scrubbing and decontaminting will unfold as a case-history pamphlet for other U.S. communities who discover "ghost" radium in their basements.

Marinite Plans To Help Negroes

Fred B. Winn of 671 Bridgeway, Sausalito, has volunteered to join the Mississippi summer project in June to help Negroes in that state.

The project includes work in voter registration, freedom schools and community centers. It is sponsored by the student non-violent coordinating committee and the council of federated organizations.

Winn, a student at College of Marin, expects to be assigned to a community center where instruction is given in pre-natal and infant care, hygiene and programs in adult literacy and vocational training.

When you get up in the morning with a long face, there's just that much more to shave. —Changing Times.

Congo Visitors Will Give Lessons To Marin Pupils

Seven students from the Congo Republic studying at San Francisco State College will give fourth grade pupils at Don Timoteo School a short lesson in their native language, Lingala, on Monday.

The students will visit Terra Linda homes Sunday and the school Monday from 9 to 11 a.m., according to Mrs. Stanley V. Dick of Terra Linda.

Fourth graders at the school are studying Africa and the visit was arranged in conjunction with this study program, Mrs. Dick said. The students from the Congo are studying in San Francisco to become English teachers in the Congo, she said.

Tam Orchestra Plans Music For Drama

Tamalpais high school's orchestra, for the first time in history, is composing and arranging an overture for this year's senior play, the mystery-comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace." The play will be produced May 15 and 16 in Ruby Scott auditorium.

The project was undertaken so the orchestra might provide music to create atmosphere for the play. Orchestra members participating are Lee and Michael Heller, Brian Mann, Norma Powell, Walter Provines, and Mark Walters.

Dredging Low Bid Announced

Hydraulic Dredging Co. of Oakland was apparent low bidder at $177,624 yesterday for dredging the upper portion of the Petaluma River.

MARIN FILM FARE

Appealing Fantasy Opening At Rafael

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

An appealing fantasy, "The Brass Bottle," arrives Sunday to demonstrate that a 3,000-year-old genie may not be the best of household pets.

Tony Randall plays a struggling architect who accidentally frees genie Burl Ives from an antique brass bottle, just like Aladdin. The genie has a tough time convincing Randall he's for real, but magic camels, elephants, feasts and dancing girls finally do the trick.

Trouble is, the genie's gifts have a way of embarrassing the earnest young man professionally, socially and romantically. With the ruin of his career and his engagement threatened, he just wants the persistent genie to go back where he came from.

NOVATO THEATER

Back with us Sunday is Otto Preminger's "The Cardinal."

There is surprising variety, excitement and drama in this significant religious story from Henry Morton Robinson's novel about the physicial, moral and spiritual crises in the career of a priest.

Tomy Tryon reveals himself as a sensitive performer as Father Stephen Fermoyle, son of a Boston-Irish motorman, who rises to be a prince of the church.

Troubles begin soon after ordination, when his sister—Carol Lynley — falls in love with a Jewish boy. Director John Huston is outstanding as an aging Boston cardinal. Burgess Meredith excels as a humble priest.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Six Nobel prize winners gather in Stockholm on the eve of the award ceremonies. Paul Newman plays a blase American novelist who makes it clear to all the world that his only interest is the $50,000 prize money.

MOTOR MOVIES

Dean Martin, Geraldine Page and Wendy Hiller are the principals, New Orleans the setting.

To his surprise, neither his sisters nor new wife are honestly happy at his sudden success. Each in her own way loved him not in spite of his failings, but because of them.

LARK THEATER

Vittori Gassman plays a flashy playboy, a sex bomb devoted to his own delight. He takes under his wing an opposite, an introverted student, and decides to expose him to the life of pleasure and pursuit of happiness.

The younger man tries to resist, but is swept along by Gassman's charm and the rarified atmosphere of pure hedonism.

After a day-and-a-half of fun, he's a different person. Lighthearted and light-headed — ready to fly. He races off to see the girl of his dreams, crying "faster, faster" as Gassman wheels the speeding sports car.

Then, tragedy.

A rewarding film.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

Action revolves around Niven's efforts to steal a fabulous gem in possession of an equally fabulous Moslem princess—Miss Cardinale. Police of several countries are just no match for him and Wagner, the admiring nephew determined to follow in Niven's stealthy footsteps.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

The story, sensitive but adroitly handled, concerns illicit love and its consequences. It begins with Miss Wood introducing herself to McQueen, informing him they have met previously and that she is in the process of bearing his baby.

FAIRFAX THEATER

The Oscar-winning Best Picture of 1963, "Tom Jones" is held over—and we suspect will be again and again. The brilliant comedy triumph offers watching pleasure from start to finish — which is quite a stretch.

We go back to the 18th century for the adventures of Squire Alworthy's adopted son —who, besides being rebellious and brave, is irresistible to the ladies. The bawdiness of the era is depicted with delicious believability.

101 DRIVE-IN

Teen favorites Troy Donahue, Connie Stevens, Ty Hardin, Stefanie Powers and Boy Conrad play stellar roles in the fun weekend at Palm Springs. There's plenty of racing in sport cars and all that j-a-z-z.

"Wall of Noise," sharing the bill, is an absorbing drama of race horses and the men who train, ride and own them. It's a low-budgeter made at Hollywood Park, but when it sticks to track action it is most exciting.

Ty Hardin, Suzanne Pleshette, Dorothy Provine.

To Visit Australia

Robert W. Harrison, Navy radarman seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Harrison of 14 Medway Road, San Anselmo, will visit Sydney and Melbourne, Australia in conjunction with the forthcoming Coral Sea Celebration aboard the fleet oiler USS Ashtabula operating in the Far East. The celebration marks the anniversary of the Battle of the Coral Sea during World War II.
